YOUTH IS KILLED IN CAR CRASH

Workmen Dig in Sand to Free Child

Boy Is Trapped In Well

MANORVILLE, N.Y. (UP) — Rescuers fought sand and death 21 feet below the ground today in a desperate effort to reach a 7-year-old boy trapped at the bottom of a well shaft since 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Chances that Benjamin Hooper Jr. was still alive appeared slight. Dr. Joseph H. Kris, who maintained an all-night vigil at the top of the boy's narrow prison, estimated at 10 a.m. e d t., 14 hours after he was trapped, there was just a 20 per cent chance Benny was then alive. And he added, "each moment the chances grow slimmer."

Kris said that he and a rescue worker saw movement at the bottom of the shaft at 5 a.m., indicating the boy still was alive at that hour.

A huge, industrial type vacuum cleaner was used in an effort to remove sand and other debris which had sifted down the shaft onto the boy.

Rescuers completed a parallel hole 15 feet from the narrow well shaft before dawn. Using hydraulic jacks, they began forcing three-foot pipe through the sand toward the trapped youngster. A conveyor belt carried the sand clear of the excavation in the backyard of the Hooper home in this Long Island community some 70 miles east of New York City.

Shortly after 10 a.m. three feet of pipe had been laid in and cleared of sand and workmen started pushing through a second section. They planned to work to within two feet of the child with the pipe and then resume hand digging.

Benny's father had warned the child and his playmate, Mike Molinaro, away from the hole a few minutes before. Mike said Benny had tried to jump across the top of the shaft, a three by five foot excavation at the top.

Crying Stops

The boy could be heard crying during the early hours of his imprisonment Thursday night. Shortly before midnight, he stopped and he failed to respond to requests to move his hand, stretched above his head in the narrow shaft and the only part of him visible from above.

He was believed wedged into the 30-inch bottom of the shaft, his feet probably dangling in the water below. Benny fell into the hole moments after his father finished work on it for the day.

The youngster's mother, Borgeld, 30, a telephone operator, handled emergency calls at her job for minutes before realizing they were calling aid for her child. She remained indoors most of the night, caring for her 5-year-old daughter, Wendy, and under a doctor's treatment herself for shock.

Hooper, 33, a township highway maintenance man, remained at the scene throughout the night blaming himself for the tragic accident.

Rescuers, doctors, the boy's parents and hundreds of the curious —many of whom stayed on the

Tax Relief May Come Next Year

CINCINNATI (UP) — Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) predicted Thursday that Congress would approve tax cuts "up and down the line" by the middle of 1958.

He said the tax relief might come as early as the first of the year.

"The economy is ripe for a tax cut," he said.

Ike in Another Defense of His Record Budget

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today "we must not weaken ourselves militarily or destroy our leadership in the free world . . . in our desire to reduce our own tax burden."

"To make such an attempt," he said in a telephoned message to a Republican regional conference at Cincinnati, Ohio, "could prove the most costly mistake of our entire national life."

The President again defended his record $71,800,000,000 peacetime spending budget and prodded Congress to enact his proposals on federal aid to schools, civil rights and higher postal rates.

"Peace will be maintained only by unrelenting day-by-day sacrifice," he said. "Any sound political program for America must have this determination as its foundation stone. . .

"To date, this program has made little progress in Congress. Unless that body begins to act on it soon, the country and our people will be the poorer."

Campaign Briefs —

Sign-ripping Is Featuring Hot Mayoralty Race

Monessen's hot mayoralty campaign was at the sign-ripping stage today.

John R Stieska opposing Mayor Hugo J. Parente for the Democratic nomination, said Parente forces are "systematically" destroying his advertising signs.

"They have a couple of hired stooges who go around at night tearing Stieska stickers off automobiles and throwing rocks through signs," Stieska charged.

He said he has issued instructions to his own supporters that they are not to retaliate.

The local campaign probably has set a new record for stickers on car bumpers.

Pizza Pie Party

Mayor Hugo J. Parente and members of his City Hall slate apparently believe that a way to a voter's vote is through his stomach. Last night the group was host at a pizza pie party at Park Casino for residents of the Park Plan and Park Manor areas. It was attended by a large crowd.

Parente in Neon

A huge neon sign blazing with "Parente for Mayor" has been installed on the Third St. side of the Magura building.

Teamsters Asked to Fire Beck

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee called today for "immediate action" by the Teamsters Union to decide on dumping Dave Beck as president.

McClellan, who angrily dismissed the portly Teamster president from the witness chair Thursday with a blast at his "rascality," told newsmen he believes Beck has "flagrantly betrayed" the trust union members reposed in him.

The committee was through with Beck, at least for the time being, after charging he misused his position in 52 ways for personal profit and "took, not borrowed" more than $300,000 in union funds.

Beck, in refusing to answer the charges, ran his total of Fifth Amendment pleas before the committee to more than 200.

Gessert Due To Testify

In tidying up the case the committee planned public questioning of Norman Gessert, possibly today. Gessert, a cousin of Mrs. Beck, was missing for weeks until a U S marshal ran him down in an automobile chase in Ellensburg, Wash. He was hauled before the committee Thursday but was granted a reprieve to confer with the attorney he had just hired.

Beck told reporters Thursday he "positively" would not resign and still plans to run for re-election at the Teamsters convention next September.

In answer to another question however, Beck said he would give "serious consideration" to any request by the Teamsters executive board that he resign for the good of the union.

Such a move is reported stirring among Beck's top subordinates. Beck said he never heard of it.

The beefy union boss said Thursday he had repaid $100,000 to his union within the last two weeks. That would make $370,000 he has put back in the till. Beck claims he only borrowed the money. The committee has charged Beck stole more than $322,000 from Teamster treasuries and called the money a loan only when he got into income tax trouble.

REMAINS OF "DEATH CAR" — Joseph Garofalo, Jr., 17, of Monessen, is dead today as the result of injuries suffered when this car in which he was riding crashed and overturned on Rt. 71 about 1 o'clock this morning. The driver of the car, Charles David Dow, 17, is in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital with head and chest injuries. Here curious look at the wrecked MG roadster.

Question Is: Who'll Pick County Judges?

Westmoreland County voters are being asked in the current primary election campaign to decide whether judges should be chosen in free contests, open to any aspiring lawyer, or whether they should be chosen by party leaders on a wait-your-turn basis.

Independent candidates, of course, favor the open contests while the Democratic courthouse political machine operates on the wait-your-turn policy.

County political circles today were discussing a meeting which took place in the Hunt Club at Southwest Greensburg Wednesday night at which the wait-your-turn principle was openly advocated by a follower of the courthouse machine. Attorney David H. Weiss, of Monessen.

Weiss is an assistant district attorney and serves as solicitor of the City of Monesen, the Monesen School District, the Rostraver Township School District and the Township road supervisors.

Accounts Vary

No reporters were present at the Southwest Greensburg meeting and accounts vary considerably as to just what was said.

But Weiss himself today confirmed to The Daily Independent that he made the following statement: Speaking of Joseph M Loughran, a former assistant D A. who split with the organization when it refused to back him for a judgeship nomination, Weiss said: "He (Loughran) is my good friend. He was my classmate in law school and I like him. There is only one thing wrong. Joe will not wait his turn. I want to be a judge, and I am willing to wait my

Five Companies Answer Fire at Burrell Plant

Four tanks containing 60,000 gallons of tar caught fire and burned for almost an hour inside the Burrell Construction Co. building near Donora late this morning.

Five fire companies answered the alarm and brought the flames under control with steady streams of liquid foam. Damage was not estimated.

The four tanks were being heated when they became too hot and broke out in flames. Dense smoke covered the entire interior of the two-story concrete structure and also poured out of open windows and doors.

Firemen were able to confine the fire to the tank area.

Answering the alarm were fire companies from Webster, Donora, Monongahela, Charleroi and Carroll Twp.

The building is located on the Donora-Black Diamond Rd.

$33,191 Verdict Awarded Against Van Meter Man

A verdict totalling $33,191 was awarded by a Washington County jury yesterday against a Van Meter man.

The verdict was returned after more than two days of trial before Judge George T. Cummins, in the traffic accident death case of 19-year-old Beverly A. Kelley, of West Middletown.

The defendant was James Pauline, of Van Meter.

Miss Kelley as a passenger in a car driven by Walter M. Jones, of Avella, R. D. 1, when the accident occurred on Rt. 31 about 4 miles west of Washington on Oct. 22, 1956.

A third car was involved in the accident and the driver, Homer E. Patterson of Rea, was at one time also a defendant in the case, but was dropped after a petition to the court approved a settlement of $4,000 to Edward H. Kelley, father of the dead girl.

In another civil case before the Washington County courts, Stanley Kossol, of Charleroi, received $7,283 in the case in which Myers and Myers Hardware, of Monongahela and Victor Furiga, of New Eagle, were defendants. Furiga was driving his company's truck when involved in an accident with Kossol near Monongahela, Aug. 12, 1952.

Joseph Garofalo Dead; Another Boy Is Injured

Joseph Garofalo Jr., a 17-year-old Monessen High School senior, died in Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, at 6:30 this morning of head and internal injuries received about five hours earlier in a one-car accident on Rt. 71 two miles east of Belle Vernon.

A companion and driver of the car, Charles David Dow, 17, also a senior, is in "fair" condition in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. He suffered head and chest injuries.

The tragedy struck about five hours after the two youths had attended the annual Senior Class banquet in the school cafeteria.

Garofalo, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garofalo Sr., of 1331 Reeves Ave., was to have received his high school diploma on May 29.

The Dow youth is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Dow, of 1223 Marion Ave.

In Sports Roadster

The two youths, according to State Police, were riding in a 1957 MG sports roadster when Dow attempted to negotiate a slight curve near Altier's Gas Station. The car shot out of control, ran up an embankment, overturned and bounced back onto the highway, landing on its top.

Both youths were tossed out of the open car and landed on the highway. They were found on the highway about 20 yards apart by passing motorists.

The car was demolished.

Ambulances rushed them to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital for emergency treatment. Garofalo later was taken to Mercy Hospital.

The Garofalo youth was administered the last rites of the Catholic Church by the Rev. Leonard Sanesi, assistant pastor of St. Cajetan Church here.

The victim was born in Monessen on Dec. 24, 1939, and attended local elementary schools. He was a senior in the Vocational shop.

He had been active in school affairs and only recently appeared in the Senior Class play.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ronald (Michaelene) Campana, of Monessen.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Three Youths Are Hurt in Rt. 71 Crash

Three youths were injured last night when the car in which they were riding struck another vehicle on old Rt. 71 two miles from Belle Vernon, State Police reported today.

Injured and taken to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital were Jack Parks, 16, of 445 Isabelle Ave., North Charleroi, bruises of face and neck; Ronald Gilmore, 17, of 614 Crest Ave., Charleroi, lacerations of head, and Richard Barnett, 16, of 719 Fourth St., Charleroi, fracture of the right leg and left wrist.

Police said the youths were riding in a car driven by Parks when it sideswiped a car operated by P. G. Vezzetty, of 209 Wood St., Charleroi, and came to a stop against an embankment. Vezzetty was not hurt, it was stated.

Counsel Claims Beaver Firemen Commit 'Piracy'

BEAVER, Pa. (UP)—Counsel for a river transportation company declared today that Beaver volunteer firemen have committed an act of "piracy" by attempting to hold a fire-damaged towboat until salvage is paid.

Harland I. Casteel, attorney for the J E. Crivella Towing Co., said the firemen have put a watchman aboard the 80-foot diesel, which burned Tuesday night and was abandoned by its crew.

The lawyer said the firemen "told us we can't have the boat until we pay them $4,000, a figure they picked out of the air as 40 per cent of the value of the boat in her present condition."

"That's piracy," Casteel declared. He threatened to bring a trespass action against the firemen.

Perryopolis Burgess Having Hard Time Spending Big Inheritance

PERRYOPOLIS (UP) — The first burgess ever elected by this Cinderella community has spent his entire four-year term trying to spend a $1,500,000 inheritance willed to the town by a real-life fairy godmother.

And take it from the hatried municipal official, Russell J. Blair —it has not been easy and most of the money is still in the bank.

Blair, a Republican when elected four years ago now has switched to the Democratic side and is running unopposed in next Tuesday's primary election.

The 1,800 residents of this Western Pennsylvania farming and coal mining center elected borough officials for the first time in 1953 to administer a fortune willed to Perryopolis by a nostalgic old lady. The first thing they did was order installation of street lights.

The town received the unexpected windfall in 1948 when Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier, who spent her childhood in this small Fayette County settlement, died in Philadelphia. She directed that her fortune be given to her old home town for public improvements, but legal maneuvering held up distribution of the estate for five years.

When Blair was elected, a community planning commission studied the borough's needs and submitted plans for a street lighting system, a community center, a borough building, a sewage treatment plant, water system improvements and a new junior and senior high school.

Only the street lighting system has become a reality.

Completion of the sewage plant has been roadblocked by "contracting difficulties" and the new school exists only on the drawing boards.

He said the town actually had only half the 1,500,000 legacy to spend on improvements. The remainder, according to the will, can be used only to draw interest and cannot be touched.

"We started the sewage plant in 1954 at a cost of about $350,000," Blair said. "The street lighting was completed right away—the state paid for the lights and the town for the installation.

"We decided to go ahead with the other projects on completion of the sewage plant. It should have been finished in 1956, but we ran into plenty of trouble—mostly contracting difficulties involving the interceptor lines. We'll be lucky if the project can be finished in the next six months."

Blair said he "expects" ground

Widow Charged With Murder In Monongahela

Mrs. Lena Trappin, a tiny, 75-year-old widow, yesterday was formally charged with murder and accessory before and after the fact in the May 2 slaying of a neighbor, Joseph Mancuso, 65, of Monongahela.

Mrs. Trappin was ordered held for the next term of Washington County Criminal Court following a hearing yesterday afternoon before Alderman Byron C. Coleman, of Monongahela.

Mrs. Trappin seemed poised as she entered her plea of innocence. She made no other statement during the arraignment that lasted over two hours. She was represented by Atty. William H. Robinson, of Monongahela. Austin Murphy, assistant district attorney, was prosecutor.

Only two witnesses were heard. They were Monongahela Patrolmen Dino Pala and Albert Zaverello, who have been investigating the case.

Investigation Continues

The officers said that although Mrs. Trappin was being held for the murder and accessory before and after the fact, they had not yet concluded their investigation of the slaying.

Mancuso, a shoemaker who lived at 123 East Main St. with his invalid wife, was found strangled to death on the morning of May 2 in the back yard of a neighbor. A man's belt was looped about his neck and there were several bruises about his body.

During the investigation it was revealed that signs of a struggle had been found in the Trappin home at 125 East Main St. Buttons from the victim's clothing were found in a second-floor bedroom of the dwelling and another button and bloodstains were found in the kitchen on the first floor.

Mrs. Trappin and Mancuso had been friends.

Woman Gets Phone Threat

PITTSBURGH (UP) — A Duquesne woman, whose sister-in-law was murdered last fall, was threatened with death by a telephone caller Thursday night.

Mrs. Mary Sudik, 50, of 853 State St., said that when she picked up the receiver she heard a woman's "awful screaming" and then a man's voice said:

"You have just heard a murdered woman's voice. You are next. The murderer will strike at dawn."

The caller then hung up.

Mrs. Sudik's sister-in-law, Mrs Helen Zubryd, 41, was slain with a hatchet in her Sewickley Township home last Nov. 20. The murder has not been solved.

will be broken for the new school this year. The town's share of the project will be about $250,000.

"That leaves us with about $150 000—enough for a borough building," he said. "Beyond that . . . I don't know."

Blair said for the past two years he and members of council have not accepted one cent from the borough for salary or expenses.

"We're putting the money back into the till," he said. "There's too much still to be done."

Sid Caesar Plans To Produce Shows

NEW YORK (UP)—Comedian Sid Caesar, whose NBC contract was terminated by mutual consent, was reported today to be planning to associate himself with Sylvester L. Weaver, former NBC chairman, in a producing alliance.

Reliable sources said Caesar and Weaver are contemplating production of TV shows, motion pictures, theatrical presentations, and night club shows. Caesar's aides, Carl Reiner and Howard Morris, were expected to be associated with the team.

Bentleyville Man Arrested in Lottery

John T. Sullivan, of Bentleyville was arrested on a charge of maintaining and operating a lottery by State Police early this morning.

He was freed on $1,000 bond pending a hearing at the next term of Washington County court.

Police said they confiscated a large quantity of numbers slips when they arrested Sullivan in a house on Johnson Ave. in Bentleyville.

turn. I hope to be speaking before you someday."

Other sources said that Weiss was questioned by a person in the audience and that the following colloquoy took place:

Q.—"Is it true that a few people pick the judges of Westmoreland County?"

Weiss — "Yes."

Q. — "Who are the people who pick them?"

Weiss — "People of experience in the courthouse."

Q. — "Who are they—what are their names?"

Weiss — "I am not at liberty to tell you that."

Reports said this answer was followed by loud boos from the audience.

Weiss was then reported to have remarked that he had served in the Legislature seven terms.

"We waited our turn—that is the right way," the local attorney was reported to have said.

When a reporter called him today, Weiss denied this version of what took place at the meeting. He was asked about widespread reports that he himself is an active candidate for the court vacancy created by the recent death of Judge George H. McWherter.

Someume after the primaries next Tuesday, the county Democratic and Republican committees are expected to each designate a candidate for this vacancy. These nominations will go on the November ballots along with the two nominees to be chosen by each party in the primary.

Answering the reporter's question, Weiss said:

"It's every lawyer's ambition to be a judge. I'd like to be a judge as much as Joe (Loughran). If Joe had been a little patient—but he wouldn't wait.

"I worked for Sculco (District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco, who has machine support along with Judge E. G. Bauer for the judgeship nominations) for seven and a half years. He is a decent man, and I would not run against a man I worked for. But Joe felt otherwise. I talked to Joe and asked him to wait, but he said no."

'Loughran Meeting'

Weiss went on to say that the Hunt Club meeting was a "Loughran meeting". But he said he didn't know that until after he arrived in company with Earl S. Kern, another assistant district attorney who is unopposed as the organization's candidate for district attorney.

The Westmoreland machine has long operated a "promotion" system by which it elevates district attorneys to the bench as vacancies occur. All four of the present judges reached their positions by the "promotion" route.

Sculco's "turn" arrived this year with the decision of Judge Richard D. Laird not to stand for reelection.

Persons close to the machine have said that Loughran could have had its support for the McWherter vacancy had he not stepped out of line.

It is widely reported that if Sculco is defeated in the primary, the organization will try to give him a second chance in November by having the party committee designate him as the Democratic candidate for the McWherter vacancy.

There are six candidates for the primary nominations. Besides Bauer, Sculco and Loughran, they are James L. McWherter, a nephew of the late Judge, Avra N. Pershing, Jr. and Robert H. Rial. All six are running on both the Republican and Democratic tickets

Methodists to Hear Reports at Parley

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—Reports on subjects ranging from higher education to evangelism will be given today at the fourth session of the 132nd annual Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church.

An address also is scheduled by Dr. Edwin Price Booth of Boston University.

The conference was told Thursday the church as a whole was "on the verge of disaster" unless it increases ministerial salaries.

Leon H. Hickman, chairman of the Committee on Adequate Ministerial Support, said "something must be done" to bring ministerial salaries "more in line with the realities of today's world."

Hickman, vice president and general counsel of the Aluminum Co. of America, pointed out that salaries of ministers are not "even remotely comparable" to those paid in the field of industry and commerce.

His motion to appoint a committee to study the subject of higher salaries was approved by the conference, which represents about 166,000 members of 466 churches in southwestern Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia.

Dr. W. Ralph Ward J., minister at Mt. Lebanon Methodist Church, near Pittsburgh, called for a five per cent salary increase for district superintendents, executive secretaries of the Board of Missions, the Board of Education and the administrator of the Home for the Aged. The motion was approved by the conference.

Egypt Intends To Run Suez On Own Terms

Egypt stiffened its determination today to run the Suez Canal on its own terms and informed sources in Cairo said Anglo-French pressure in the forthcoming U. N. Security Council debate would not change its stand.

The Egyptian sources said the country was optimistic that outcome of the debate would not weaken Egypt's authority over the canal. They said shipping companies using the canal have made no complaint.

Egyptian newspapers attacked President Eisenhower for the second day for saying Israel has a right to send a test ship through the canal

The government newspaper Al Goumhouria said 'any person endowed with common sense will realize that the words 'rights, security and justice' by Eisenhower constitute a screen vainly designed to conceal American policy aimed at sowing the seeds of unrest among the Arabs for the sake of both imperialism and Zionism."

To Await Debate

An Israeli government spokesman said in Jerusalem that Israel would wait until after the U N debate before deciding whether to send a ship through the canal to test the Egyptian boycott of Israeli shipping.

The Norwegian freighter Mars waited at Haifa, loaded with 4,500 tons of potash and industrial goods for Japan, but Israel officials said this would not constitute a true test since the ship is owned by a Norwegian firm and is under charter to an American firm.

At the same time Israeli government circles expressed disappointment in President Eisenhower's Wednesday statement that Egyptian interference with Israeli shipping would give Israel a case for the international court.

They said this would cause delays and would be just what Egypt wants and might conceal the fact that the Security Council already has ruled that Israel has the same right as other nations to use the canal.

Nasser Loses Bid in Mideast, McCann Says

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP)—Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's hope of making himself the leader of the Arab world has definitely failed and the Western position in the Middle East is increasingly strong, United Press foreign news analyst Charles McCann said today.

McCann, speaking before a session of editors and publishers at the annual Pennsylvania Press Conference, said Nasser and leaders of Soviet Russia "have reason to worry" because of the Baghdad Conference this week between King Saud of Saudi Arabia and King Feisal of Iraq.

The U.P. writer said it appeared that a "new alignment" of Arab nations is being formed. The re-alignment "is one which will bring some of them to the Western allies and tend to isolate Egypt and Syria which are the pro - Russian, anti-Western leaders" among the Arab countries, McCann said

Saud Visit Profitable

King Saud's visit to President Eisenhower last January "seems to have paid off well," McCann told the newspaper executives, assembled here for a two-day conference sponsored by the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors, Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, and the Penn State University School of Journalism.

"Saud returned home apparently convinced that U.S. policy in the Middle East was well meant," McCann said. "Saud played a big part in the victory which young King Hussein of Jordan has won over the pro-Russian, pro-Egyptian political leaders who threatened to overthrow him.

Conference Natural Sequel

"Both Saud and Feisal went to Hussein's aid at a critical time. They both offered him the support of their troops. The Baghdad Conference was a natural sequel to Hussein's victory."

This development and others since Nasser seized the Suez Canal have demonstrated the conflicting interests of Arab countries, McCann said. For one thing, the U. P. analyst stated, Saudi Arabia and Iran live on the revenues which they get from Western oil companies.

"Egypt and Syria must be feeling somewhat lonely right now," McCann said.

The United Press Editors of Pennsylvania conducted its second annual business session in conjunction with the press conference. The U. P. editors group elected new officers and picked a date and site for a UPEP news forum to be held this summer.

Parente's Record Is The Election Issue

NEXT TUESDAY'S mayoralty election in Monessen is, by unanimous consent, a referendum on the desirability of continuing Mayor Hugo J. Parente in office for another four years, which would be 16 years in all.

Mr. Parente says this is the issue and so does his opponent, John R. Stieska. They just differ as to whether the Mayor's record is good enough to call for another term or bad enough to call for a change.

The decision is largely up to the voters registered in the Democratic party since there are no candidates for mayor on the Republican ticket. The only way a Republican voter can get in the act this year is to write a candidate's name or use his sticker on the voting machine. And since Mr. Parente and Mr. Stieska are the only contenders, the effect of giving one or the other the Republican nomination will be either to prolong the agony to November or to end it finally next Tuesday.

* * *

MAYOR PARENTE'S record is a study in contrasts. When it has been bad, it has been very bad; when it has been good, it has been very good.

It would serve no good purpose to review this record in detail here. The public knows it well, and our readers have had whatever benefit is to be derived from rather frequent and frank discussions of it in this space.

But any fair appraisal cannot overlook the breakdown of law enforcement which occurred while Mayor Parente has held the police power of the community in his hands. This breakdown was serious; it was disgusting to decent citizens; and it did great harm to the city.

Coupled with this laxity was the corruption of the election process. The crude ballot frauds which were practiced in precincts controlled by the Parente political organization were revolting. They struck at the foundations of our rights as free Americans.

To what extent Mayor Parente can be held personally accountable for these conditions the voter will have to decide for himself. But the record is clear that while he could have done much to correct them, he did nothing. If the rackets operate more discreetly today and if our elections are more honest than they were, the credit has to be placed elsewhere.

* * *

TURN the coin over, and what do we see? We see Mayor Parente in the vanguard of a civic movement to make Monessen a better city. We find him talking and acting like a municipal statesman, using the powers of government intelligently and ingeniously to further community progress.

Mr. Parente plays this role well. About two years ago he grasped the idea of planning on a large scale for a more modern city, and he sought and has received the cooperation of all segments of community life.

Mr. Parente is now getting some political mileage from this program and is being accused of taking credit for achievements which are not his. But in carrying out his part of the program the Mayor has been about as unpartisan as could reasonably be expected.

While the work is still largely unfinished, substantial progress has been made. And it is understandable that Mayor Parente should want to continue to be a part of it.

* * *

NOW what of Mr. Stieska and his call for a "change"?

As we have studied his arguments, Mr. Stieska has seemed to us to be hitting Mr. Parente where he is strongest and ignoring his record where it is weakest.

Mr. Stieska, for instance, has pointed to "blunders" in the execution of public projects. The inference is that the Parente administration has done the right things but in the wrong way. And that Mr. Stieska would do them the right way.

The voter, just has to decide for himself whether the "change" would be an improvement or just a change.

Mr. Stieska, to his credit at least, does not base his case on breakdown of law enforcement. Proper judgment is the great issue in Mr. Parente's case for reelection. And it seems to us that Mr. Stieska ought to tell the voters before next Tuesday just where he stands on the rackets and what kind of police department he intends to run. If he thinks the main Parente blunder was Parente himself, what does he think of slot machines, gambling joints and the numbers racket?

If we need a change, in other words, it should involve more than a different kind of parking place or redevelopment project. It should involve a more faithful performance of the mayor's duties as to law enforcement. But Mr. Stieska has not offered this kind of change.

The conscientious voter has to decide, it seems to us, whether Mr. Parente's most serious error was one of judgment and if so, whether he or Mr. Stieska is best equipped to lead the city government through the challenges ahead that most of us feel lies just ahead for Monessen.

Merry-Go-Round—

Ike's 'Team' Disrupted by Budget Row

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The amazing fact about this Republican administration is that it forgot the lesson taught by an earlier Republican administration. It's the lesson that once the budget is fixed no one on the administration team tampers with it. If he does, he gets off the team.

Mr. Pearson

The man who fixed this policy was Charles G. Dawes in the Harding administration. His work as Director of the Budget earned him the Vice Presidency of the United States.

Prior to Dawes, everyone tampered with the budget. The Congress pulled it one way, different members of the administration pulled it different ways, just as it's being pulled today. It was a free-for-all — as it is today. Every cabinet member put in his two cents worth.

Dawes decreed that cabinet members could all argue about the budget — privately — before the budget was fixed. But once it was fixed everyone stuck together. Every cabinet member, every bureaucrat fought on the same team against Congress to defend the budget.

Humphrey Bolts

Every Democratic and Republican President since that day (1921) carried on the Dawes system — until this winter. Then the cabinet member closest to Ike — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey — suddenly jumped on the budget. It was unprecedented. Old-line bureau chiefs waited for Humphrey to be fired. Any previous President would have fired him.

But he wasn't fired. Instead Ike went to spend two weeks on Humphrey's Georgia plantation.

The result spread through government like the recording of an earthquake on a seismograph. It was an earthquake — governmentwise.

For when the man closest to the President blasted the budget and continued to enjoy the President's close companionship, everyone else in government figured he could do it too. Even Mrs. Randolph Burgess, wife of the Undersecretary of the Treasury, is now giving off on what should or should not be cut in the budget.

One day, Ike had a "team." The next day he didn't have a team. He's right back to the chaotic budget days before pipe-smoking, hell-and-maria Charley Dawes decreed there should be no more inter-family bickering over the budget.

Airline Politics

Much-loved Walter George, the venerable elder statesman from Georgia, is no longer a member of the Senate, but the other day he sat in on a highly important closed-door huddle. It was held in the Senate's Vandenberg Room to protest against the proposed CAB award to Pan American Airways of a non-stop route from New York to Mexico City.

Those who attended the meeting were: Sens. Allen Ellender and Russell Long, La., Olin Johnston and Strom Thurmond, S. C., Willis Robertson, Va., all Democrats, plus representatives from Eastern Airlines.

"Eastern Airlines pioneered this route and built it up years before Pan American tried to get it," remarked Senator Long. "This idea of giving it to Pan American is the most incredible example of malfunction of government I have ever seen."

"The man probably responsible" said Senator Ellender, "is Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks. He's been the special friend of Pan American for some time."

The lengthy discussion revolved around the fact that in 1946 the Civil Aeronautics Board awarded Eastern Airlines the profitable New York-Mexico City non-stop run. Eastern had pioneered the routes from New York and Boston to Atlanta, New Orleans, and Houston years before; and it is customary to let the first operator of a route extend it further; also fly over the same route non-stop.

Behind the Mexicans

But despite the CAB award to Eastern Airlines, negotiations with Mexico bogged down. Senators at the closed-door discussion pointed out that Pan American was probably behind the impasse, since Pan Am owns 42 per cent of Mexico's CMA, and 20 per cent of a second Mexican line, Aeronaves.

I have read the report of an investigator President Truman sent to Mexico to see why Eastern was not awarded this route," Senator Ellender told his colleagues, "and he made it quite clear that Pan American was working through its Mexican subsidiaries to block Eastern."

Now, 11 years after the CAB awarded the New York-Mexico City route to Eastern in 1946, a CAB examiner has recommended that Pan American get this prize non-stop route.

About 20 per cent of all federal income tax returns are found to contain errors.

Today and Tomorrow—

The Case for Foriegn Aid

By WALTER LIPPMANN

In arguing the case for the foreign aid appropriation, it will be best to admit at the outset that there can be no such thing as an exact estimat of the amount that is necessary. Thus, between January when he submitted the budget and Mid-April, when he wrote his letter to Speaker Rayburn, the President had reduced his own estimate by a half a billion dollars. Or by more than 10 per cent. The reduction is in military aid. Yet apart from the uproar all over the country about the size of the budget, had anything been happening in the outer world during those three months to explain such a big reduction in the military estimates?

Mr. Lippmann

Nothing had happened to make it more probable or less probable that either the old estimate or the new estimate is too big or too small. The old estimate was an educated guess, in the last analysis by the Pentagon, as to how much arms and how much subsidy are needed from us for NATO, for Korea, Formosa and South Vietnam, and for those other allies or clients with whom we have military pacts.

The new and reduced estimate is simply a re-educated guess as to what our military allies can get along with. Between January and April, according to the President's letter of April 18 to Speaker Rayburn, it became possible to save $500,000,000 mainly because of "new management techniques through which lead time financing has been reduced."

Congress Not Impressed

All this goes a long way to explain why Congress is not profoundly impressed by one estimate rather than by another, or prepared to accept the view that the estimate in April is more final and authoritative than the estimate in January.

Having admitted the difficulty of making estimates, we must ask ourselves what we are trying to estimate. It is the cost of carrying what are, in fact, two related but essentially distinct policies. One is the policy of supporting and subsidizing our huge network of military alliances. At least three-quarters of all the money devoted to foreign aid is earmarked for this purpose. Here there are two kinds of questions which Congress can ask. First, is it a vital American interest that we should maintain our various military alliances, which extend from NATO in Europe to Korea in Eastern Asia? Could we do without all or even without some of these alliances? And second, could we maintain them effectively at less cost? If so, on whose judgment as to how to do this should we rely?

On the whole, Congress supports overwhelmingly the alliances, and it is not disposed to run the risks of any drastic reduction in military aid. It is the second of the two policies, that of earmarking money for civilian economic development, which needs to be explained and justified. This policy is addressed not so much to the problem of preventing or winning a war with the Soviet Union but to the epoch-making problem of the new relationship between the industrially developed countries of the West and the under-developed countries of Asia and of Africa.

19. New Nations

The argument which I find compelling, is — reduced to its element — as follows. There have come into existence since the end of World War II some 19 new nations in Asia and Africa. They contain about 700,000,000 people, and there is among them a mounting demand that, having won their political independence, they shall proceed rapidly to raise their standard of life.

This cannot be done without the investment of capital in the basic productive capacity of each country — in roads, ports, transportation, machinery and the like. The under-developed countries have virtually no capital of their own. There are two main ways in which capital can be raised in an under-developed country. One is by loans on very easy terms from North America and from Western Europe. The other is by forced savings at home, which is the way that the Soviet Union developed its industrial economy.

It is often said that the capital should be provided by private investors. For a number of reasons they are not likely to provide enough capital in the places where it is most needed. Thus American private investment abroad has been averaging about 2,000,000,000 a year during the past two years. But most of this money has gone to Canada, to Europe and to other "developed" areas. About 400,000,000 has on the average gone to Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East have averaged $200,000,000 a year. But of this the bulk has been invested in the countries of the Middle East where there is oil.

Shortage of Capital

There are a number of reasons why there is a shortage of Western private capital available for investment abroad. One is that the political risks in the under-developed countries are so considerable. Another is that owing to the unprecedented and revolutionaly policy of full employment, which now prevails in Western Europe and in North America, there is hugh demand and great business activity.

As a result, there is, on the one hand, a big demand for the investment of capital at home. In Western Europe at least there is, on the other hand, owing to the much wider distribution of income which is available for consumption, a drying up of savings for investment.

Thus the managing director of the International Monetary Fund, Mr. Per Jacobsson, said recently that "practically no European country has at the moment any surplus funds available for new foreign loans. Even in Switzerland with its ample flow of savings the amounts becoming available on the capital markets seem at present to be invested altogether within the country, with the result that in the second half of 1956, there were no foreign loans issued on the Swiss market."

Myst Provide Funds

Failing adequate private investment in the under-developed countries, there are two ways left to them. One is to copy the Soviet Union, as China is doing, and to raise capital by extracting it forcibly from the people, particularly from the peasants. The other way is to provide a fund of public money in the Western world from which capital can be borrowed on terms that are politically acceptable, and are not too hard economically for countries that are very poor.

Such a fund is needed, and this country will have to be the main, though by no means the sole, supplier of capital. We cannot in fact stand aside. We cannot refuse to be concerned with the needs of these newly created nations. We cannot say that we do not care whether or how they meet the demand of their people for relief from their grinding poverty.

Serious Split Seen Between Soviet, China

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

There are indications that a big split has developed between Red China and Soviet Russia on the proper relationships between Communist countries.

It has been known for a long time that Wladyslaw Gomulka, the Polish Communist leader, has received strong and perhaps decisive support from Red China in his fight against Soviet domination.

Mr. McCann

It now appears that Mao Tse-Tung has warned Soviet leaders that they had better recognize the right of East European countries to handle their own affairs if they want to keep out of trouble.

Dispatches from Warsaw, the Polish capital, indicate that Gomulka regards Mao and Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai as his chief supporters against any new attempt by the Russians to get Poland back under Soviet domination.

Mao Congratulated Gomulka

Mao sent a message of warm congratulation to Gomulka at the time of the Polish revolt last October.

It was disclosed also at that time that Mao and Chou strongly disapproved of Russia's brutal suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

Later, they half-heartedly said that Russian intervention was justified because the Hungarian revolt was inspired by "imperialists."

But the Chinese leaders have consistently supported Gomulka, who managed to win a great measure of independence from Russian domination because — unlike the Hungarians—he succeeded in keeping anti-Russian feeling under control.

Gomulka's position was materially strengthened last January when Chou visited Poland.

Last month, Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz paid a visit to Peiping, the Chinese Communist capital.

At that time, Mao accepted an invitation from Cyrankiewicz to visit Poland in September, incident to a long-set visit to Moscow.

Cyrankiewicz obtained from the Chinese leaders a new endorsement of Poland's bid for independence.

Apparently as the result of Cyrankiewicz's visit to Peiping, it has now been disclosed in Warsaw that Chou made a speech last February in which he openly condemned the Russian intervention in Hungary.

Expected More Revolts

In that speech, Chou said that Russia must expect further revolts in Communist satellite countries if it tried to dominate their affairs.

Chou also said that Communist governments individually must give more freedom to their peoples.

Soviet leaders have reason to be worried over the attitude of the Chinese Communist leaders.

Mao and Chou are the top men in the biggest Communist-ruled country in the world. Red China has 600 million people, three times the number of those in the Soviet Union.

Red China was long regarded as a sort of Russian satellite. That this idea was completely incorrect became evident at the time of Josef Stalin's death. It is now recognized that Chou regards himself as the equal, if not the superior, of any Russian as an authority on Communist doctrine.

Hits 'Machine' Control In City and County

To the Editor:

I have been reading The Daily Independent all my life and I have lived here a long time, have seen many administrations come and go. I've seen both good and bad but I've never seen one so monopolized as this vicious "Machine" that we have here and in Westmoreland County. The way it operates, the way it threatens people who oppose it, the selfish attitude it takes to select the candidates of choice for the people in the city and county.

All the Democrats who are on the ballots were properly petitioned and are to be considered by the public and elected by the people as our servants. The "Machine" headed by a monopolizing group has no right to select a slate and to discriminate against other candidates. Why should they tell us who is best?

When you select a servant for public office, you must measure your selection (1) by his education and qualification (2) his reputation and honesty (3) to devote full time to his duties (4) to promote a good efficient police force and (5) try to bring in industries for our livelihood.

Charging your party affiliation does not mean a thing today. I am a good Democrat but I pick the honest, progressive man for my choice and not the party line. Wasn't our present city clerk at one time a Republicanu Was he not a Republican chairman? Then did he not become a Democratic chairman? He changed for a reason, did he not?

The strong-arm Gestapo methods only work in Russia, calling people in, threatening to remove them from factory work, ordering their landlords to chase them from rented homes is a poor way of getting votes.

Voters in Monessen, don't sell your votes, because when you do the Machine owes you nothing. Vote your choice both here and in the county. Don't be influenced by two-bit politicians. If there is to be a change, let it come full blast only if it's the wish of the people of Monessen, but be fair to yourself.

And remember our schools should be untied from politics, our teachers should be hired by the board and by those who know who can teach, not City Hall or any other opportunists.

Keep our city clean, keep our children safe by enforcing speed laws, keep our politics clean, let the people exercise the rights of the First and Fifth amendments. If the public wants a change, it will come to benefit the people and not the selected crop of parasites.

A Monnessen Citizen

Commends Editorial

To the Editor:

As one member of the Westmoreland County Bar Assn., may I offer hearty congratulations for your well-written and sound editorial opposing the renomination next Tuesday of Judge E. G. Bauer.

It was printed in full by our Greensburg Tribune Review; and by a copy hereof being sent that newspaper, I am likewise commending its courageous and independent attitude.

Of the many strong points made, that about the switching of political parties some time ago when conditions seemed auspicious, appealed most deeply to me. The organized rackets have some word for that sort of thing, don't they?

ON THE BALL

By ALLEN KLINE

Here's Cain's Baseball Plan

William (formerly known as 'Killer') Cain — who operates the new Grand Hotel — has come up with a brainstorm designed to "revolutionize baseball." Let Cain describe it: "My idea is to have the last place teams in each of the Major Leagues swap positions at the end of the season with the first place teams in the Pacific Coast and International Leagues. Think of the interest this would add to both the major and minor league races. The big league teams would fgiht to stay out of the cellar while the minor league teams would go all-out to make the big-time. In addition the yearly changes should certainly stimulate interest for all fans and actually increase overall attendance."

Tomorrow's Pirate-Milwaukee baseball game will be televised over KDKA - TV beginning at 2:30 p. m. . . . Pete Balog, the former Rostraver and Vernon football coach, is still in the hospital. However he's reportedly on the road to recovery after a long seige. Pete fell ill shortly after directing Ramsay in football last season. He's been in the hospital ever since . . . Monessen High's baseballers manufactured only one home run this season. Jimmy Sepesky made the circuit tour in the first game of the season . . . Incidentally Sepesky, Sam Thorpe and Carl Crawley were the only senior members of the MHS diamond squad.

Carroll Has Tough Grid Card

Carroll Twp. Junior High, the new school located midway between Donora and Monongahela, has arranged an ambitious football schedule for next season. The Carroll boys will meet Aliquippa, Brownsville, Glassport, Turtle Creek and Scott Twp. Dean Simpson, a Slippery Rock graduate, will coach the team. He had hoped to schedule district schools, but they were all tied up with previous commitments . . . Brownsville High's champion track team "almost" retired the Hays Memorial Trophy which goes annually to the winner of the Big Six meet. The Brownies won the valley crown for the third straight time this season and they figured the trophy was theirs for keeps. However the Donora American Legion Post, which set up the award, ruled that the trohpy was intended to rotate permanently.

For the first time in history, Penn State has awarded a letter posthumously, to an athlete. Carmen Palmiero, sophomore member of the State basketball team who was killed in an automobile accident en route home for the Christmas holidays, has been so honored . . . Speaking of Penn State, ticket application blanks for the 1957 football season will soon be mailed to some 60,000 alumni . . . Dick Surovchak, former Monessen High and Penn State athlete, is now wearing Navy blues . . . Jack Smodic, the Bethlehem Joint basketball coach who played baseball with Perryopolis last season, is with the Luzerne nine in the Fayette Couty League this year.

Harhai Attends Umpire School

John Harhai, former baseball coach at Monessen High, recently attended a six-week course at the George Barr Umpiring School in Fla. Johnny was offered a contract in a minor league, but turned it down because of the relatively small pay . . . Incidentally Harhai has suggested a clinic for Mon Valley umps. "It's surprising how much there is to learn about umpiring," observes John . . . Walter Berberich, the fine Latrobe High tennis player, plans to enroll at Georgetown University next fall. He will study medicine . . . Stan Musial, the Donora Dandy, now ranks 20th among big leaguers in total hits during a career. He figures to make the first ten before the season is over.

Today's Sports Parade —

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Sleepy-looking Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves has the whole National League wide awake today to the fact that he may become the best right-handed hitter in baseball.

"He has the potential, that's for sure," glows manager Fred Haney. "And he's not even near his peak yet."

Certain it is, anyhow, that the silent, somnolent 23-year-old from Mobile, Ala., is one of those "head and shoulders" ballplayers who immediately stands out over the rest of the field.

Birdie Tebbetts of the rival Cincinnati Redlegs naturally won't concede anything to the Milwaukee matter, figuring that his own Frank Robinson is as good a bet as any to become the next perpetual batting champion. But while Birdie's man is a fine hitter most baseball men contend that Aaron has him stopped six ways from the jack.

It seems strange, at first glance, that most of baseball's current top hitters are left-handed batsmen. This crew includes such as Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Yogi Berra and the switch-hitting Mickey Mantle.

There are two reasons for this apparent phenomenom. One is that the left-handed hitter has an advantage in beating out the close ones because he is a step or more closer to first base after hitting the ball. The other is that most major league pitchers are right handers, giving them an edge over right-handed batters.

Yet Aaron predicted last spring that he thought he could lead the league in batting—and then did it with a .328 average.

Started In 1952

He started in Eau Claire in 1952, becoming the Northern League rookie of the year with a .336 average. The next season, at Jacksonville, he led the Sally League with a .362 mark and was named the loop's most valuable player.

As a major leaguer, after only two seasons in organized ball it took him some time to get his feet on the ground, batting "only" .280 in 1954 and then rising to .314 in 1955 before winning the batting title last season. Right now, pitchers fear him worse than a sore elbow.

"The next time I face him," said Don Newcombe of the Dodgers. "I'm gonna throw the ball under the plate. That's the only way to keep him from hitting it."

There is no mention of a President's cabinet in the Constitution.

Cro-Ams Win in Softball

Noted as opportunists, the Cro-Ams lived up to that billing last night as they tripped Italian Hall, 10-3, in City Softball League action at City Park.

Errors and walks proved the difference as the talented Cro-Ams made every break count.

Tay Saflin led the winners attack with a pair of timely doubles, good enough to drive in three runs. Ernie Lattanzio also chased across three markers with a triple and single.

For the losers, Rail Seykoski had had two hits and drove in two runs.

Telegraphis Wins

Steve Telegraphis worked the route for the winners, giving up just five hits. He walked three.

The Cro-Ams were offered eight walks.

Tonight's City League game will pair the Myfords against ULBA at 6 o'clock.

Giardello Meets Calhoun Tonight

CLEVELAND (UP) — Highly-touted middleweight contenders Joey Giardello and Rory Calhoun counted on heavy artillery to make it "short and sweet" tonight in their 10-round televised fight at the Arena.

Oddsmakers rated the twice-postponed "natural" even money chiefly on the point that either fighter can take out an opponent with one wallop.

Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y., won 14 of 28 fights by knockouts. Giardello set down 23 of 83 opponents by the kayo route.

Tonight's bout was the third scheduled between the two. Calhoun cancelled last December when a rib injury kept him out of action. Giardello suffered a face cut in a sparring workout while prepping for the second fight in April, and again it was postponed.

Ozarks Play Host to Charleroi Tonight

Monessen and Charleroi — rivals in everything — will match hits and runs tonight at Ninth Street Park in Mon Valley League baseball play.

On paper, the visiting Charleroians look like the better team. But the current standings tell a different story.

The upstart Monessen Ozarks, who weren't sure they'd even enter the 1957 race just a few weeks back, are perched atop the MVL standings with a 4-0 record.

In contrast the power-laden Charleroians have a 2-2 slate at the moment.

Call on Aces

Both teams will send their mound aces to work. The Ozarks will again call upon Bill Mitnick while Charleroi will bank on the artistry of southpaw Fred Uhlman.

Mitnick has appeared in every Monessen game this season. He has received credit for three of the Ozark victories.

Uhlman has made two appearances. He was superb against New Eagle, but took his raps at Fayette City earlier in the week.

There will be an added touch of drama connected with this evening's game. Three Monessen products — Woch Cieply, Dean Cheesebrough and Nick Mahalko — are playing with Charleroi.

With Ozarks

On the other hand, two Charleroians — Tom Rotheram and Rich Zuraw are with the Ozarks.

There are three other MVL games scheduled tonight. West Newton will go to Van Voorhis. Perryopolis will travel to Fayette City and New Eagle will go to Donora.

BALTIMORE (UP) — Calumet Farm's Iron Liege, the Kentucky Derby winner, headed the probable lineup when the entry box for Saturday's $100,000 added Preakness Stakes closed today for the second of the Triple Crown classics.

Expected to round out the seven-horse field were Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, Clifford Lussky's Federal Hill, Roslyn Farm's Inswept, Mrs. Jules Schwartz' Nah Hiss, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Promised Land and D. M. Stable's Inside Tract.

Iron Liege, Bold Ruler, the beaten Kentucky Derby favorite, and Federal Hill, the Kentucky Derby pacemaker, dominated the small field. The others did not run in the Churchill Downs classic two weeks ago.

Not since Citation in 1948 has a three-year-old been able to win the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes, to be run June 15 this year.

Boat Races Set for District

Outboard motorboat racing will be added to the Memorial Day sports calendar in the district this year.

The Tri-State Racing Association announced today that a Regatta will be held May 30 on the Monongahela River midway between Webster and Monongahela.

The event will be held at the newly-constructed Mancini Boat Center and Club, located off of Route 31 near Gallatin. The Regatta will be free to the public.

L. A. (Bus) Donaldson, official referee of the Tri-State Association, said the Regatta will begin at 1 p. m. sharp.

Many Classes

Classes of boats to run will include three classes of utility, three classes of hydro and a family runabout. In addition there will be a free-for-all or unlimited class.

All races will consist of two heats. In the unlimited class, speeds up to seventy-miles per hour are expected.

Parking space for about 400 cars is available directly in front of the starting site.

Tri- State officials report that the layout is one of the finest racing sites in northern United States. Spectators will be able to view the entire course.

90 Drivers Already

Over 90 drivers have been entered to date. Before the 11 a. m. deadline on Memorial Day, no less than 150 entries are anticipated.

Already the outstanding drivers of the Tri-State Association have indicated that they will be on hand.

Those interested in participating in the race should contact Donaldson at McKeesport NOrth 4-4738.

Rostraver Cagers Will Be Feted At Twin Coaches

Rose and Tony Calderone will play host to the Rostraver basketball team at their swank Twin Coaches next Monday.

Earlier in the year, the Calderones — in cooperation with the Rostraver Booster Club — held a similar affair for the Lep footballers.

This time all cagers from both the senior and junior high schools at Rostraver will be feted to a spaghetti dinner beginning at 7 p. m. The boys will be invited to stick around for the floor show which follows.

Frank Buscanics, manager of an insurance office in Charleroi, will be in charge of an informal program.

Coaches and school administrators have also been invited to the event.

MHS Juniors Cop Doubles Crown at Mt. Lebanon Courts

Joe Kurey and Jim Baker — Monessen High's fine doubles duo — won the WPIAL tennis title yesterday at Mt. Lebanon.

The two Greyhound athletes thus qualified for the state-wide scholastic tournament at Penn State next Friday and Saturday.

Walter Berberich, of Latrobe, won the singles title.

Kurey and Baker defeated Ray Pierson and John Connelly, of Mt. Lebanon, in the title round, 9-7, 4-6 and 6-1.

Earlier the two MHS juniors had eliminated Mark Witkin and Tom Senior, Latrobe, 6-3 and 6-2.

The Monessen boys had to really scramble in the title round. They won the first set by a gruelling 9-7 count. After losing the second, Kurey and Baker roared home in the clincher, 6-1.

Rummell Bows

Fred Rummell, of California, bowed out of the singles tourney in semi-final action, losing to Berberich, the defending champion, by scores of 6-0 and 6-2.

Berberich then whipped Sandy Olson of Edgewood High, 6-2 and 6-0.

In another semi-final singles match, Olson eliminated Jerry Persun of Tarentum, 6-0 and 6-0.

Monessen High's complete tennis team will begin post-season action on Monday against Latrobe, the Section 3 champion. Monessen got into the playoffs by taking Section 4 laurels.

The site of Monday's match has yet to be decided.

Charleroi Meets Brownsville Today

Charleroi High's Section 17 baseball champions opened their WPIAL bid this afternoon against Brownsville at the Fayette City diamond. The game started at 2:30 p. m.

The Cougars called on their ace southpaw Carl Witmyer while the Brownies, Section 18 kings, banked their hopes on junior Bob Chuey of basketball fame.

Brownsville had previously eliminated Waynesburg, Section 19 champion, 4-0, in eight innings.

Modern machines can plant about one thousand seedling trees in an hour.

Reed Set for District Marble Tourney Saturday

Philip Reed, Monessen's marble champion, will represent the city in the district Veterans of Foreign Wars tournament in Greensburg tomorrow.

Reed will challenge other city champions from Westmoreland County.

The winner of the district event will qualify for the state-wide VFW tourney which will also be held in Greensburg this year.

R. J. Mascetti, commander and athletic officer of District 27, will be in charge of the tournament.

Reed will be accompanied to Greensburg by the city's runner-up Joseph Kerestes, as well as Recreation Board Chairman Stephen Pfeister and Monessen tournament director Frederic Feldman.

Last year's city champion — Eugene Ninchak — finished second in the state playoff.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

Putting

The best place to position the ball for a straight and level putt is about even with the inside of the left heel This enables you to get the best possible view of the line With this positioning of the ball, you can bring the putter-head in solid contact with the ball with the most consistency — an essential of good putting

In addition, this positioning of the ball makes it easy to get your eyes directly over the ball — another essential of good putting

My stance, as the drawing shows, is fairly wide My theory is that the stance should be reasonably wide to provide good balance This is especially important when there is a strong wind

If the putt is a right-breaking one, I position the ball an inch or two farther forward, depending on the sharpness of the break If it is a left-breaker, I position the ball back nearer the center of the feet I find these two small refinements helpful I think you will too.

Yankees May Sell Martin After Slugging Brawl

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Martin Casey Stengel's "boy," has fallen out of grace with his New York Yankee bosses, and because of his part in the Hank Bauer nightclub brawl may be headed for Washington in a multi player deal.

Martin Bauer and four other Yankee players faced stern disciplinary measures by Stengel for staying out beyond the curfew prescribed for 'good ballplayers while celebrating Martin's 29th birthday until the early hours of Tuesday morning

The climax of the party was the slugging of Edwin Jones, a 42-year-old delicatessen owner Jones claims the slugging was done by Bauer and threatens suit of $250,000 Bauer denies it and the Yankee management believes him

But Stengel and the top brass are infuriated at the after-hours partying They feel that Martin is the ringleader in these bright-spot escapades And sources close to the Yankees believe they are ready to deal Martin away, even though he long was regarded as Stengel's favorite player

A reliable report had Martin Andy Carey, Norm Siebern, Al Cicotte and a Yankee farmhand going to the Senators for Eddie Yost and a pitcher—either Camilo Pascual or Pedro Ramos President Cal Griffith of the Senators is willing. And Charley Dressen, front-office assistant is due in New York today to talk business

Bragan Scolding Is Now Paying Off

MILWAUKEE, Wis (UP) — Whatever Bobby Bragan did five days ago in Pittsburgh and again Tuesday at Chicago has paid off for his Pirates.

The Pirates are on their longest winning string of the season, three straight, and manager Bragan said today he had "achieved his purpose," even though he was threatened with a player revolt

"I dressed down the boys at Pittsburgh last Sunday," Bragan said, before benching veteran Frank Thomas and recently acquired Gene Baker.

"I was tired of losing with the same old faces in the lineup I put some new ones in and it paid off," he said

Three in Row

The rejuvenated Pirates beat Philadelphia in the second game of a doubleheader Sunday, the Chicago Cubs Tuesday and the Milwaukee Braves Thursday night, 2-1.

But Bragan admitted his action Sunday had caused some "rumbles" among the players, particularly Thomas, the hard-hitting star who supplies most of the Pirates' punch

"I heard Thomas had complained about being benched I took exception to that, figuring that I was running the ball club the way I felt was best So I lowered the boom again after Tuesday's game in Chicago

"I told the players if they had any complaints to tell me personally, not give them to me secondhand," said Bragan

Thomas Mum

According to Bragan, Thomas said nothing during the meeting and the two of them posed for pictures here before the start of Thursday night's game

'Talk about a player feud is a crock of baloney," Bragan said 'Thomas wasn't concerned so much about the benching as he was about getting an explanation

"I'm playing the team I think can win, regardless of how well an individual performs," said Bragan "All I'm interested in is a concerted effort.

NEW YORK (UP) — The proposed world featherweight title bout between Hogan Bassey of Nigeria and Cherif Hamia of Algeria will be staged at Syracuse, N Y, June 21 if the new date is acceptable to Hamia.

Friend Pitches Bucs to 2-1 Win over Braves

MILWAUKEE (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates' first western road trip of the season has taken on a different look from their first swing of the east.

The Pirates won only one of seven games on their eastern trip in April and followed that with a dismal, long home stand But already they have won the first two games of their current western swing

Thursday night's 2-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves also was their third victory in a row and moved them from last to seventh place in the league standings Chicago dropped to last place

A 'dressing down" manager Bobby Bragan gave his players at Pittsburgh Sunday prior to leaving on the road trip may have had something to do with it

Bob Friend went the route for the Pirates and won his third victory against three defeats, but he barely made it

Mathews Homers

Eddie Mathews homered to open the ninth for the Braves Joe Adcock was safe on an error, but was wiped out in a double play Johnny Logan and Billy Bruton then followed with singles But with men on first and third, Friend got Del Crandall out on a fly to end the game

Friend was locked in a tight duel with the Braves' young rookie, Juan Pizarro, who allowed five hits before he was lifted for a pinchhitter in the eighth But two of the hits were a homer by Roberto Clemente in the fourth and a single by Gene Baker that scored Dick Groat in the seventh

Williams May Be Disciplined

BOSTON (UP)—Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams today awaited American League action on his latest display of temperament — carelessly heaving a bat in disgust at fouling out

An umpire's report on the incident Wednesday was forwarded to league President Will Harridge in Chicago A league decision whether to fine or reprimand Williams, or both was expected shortly

The bat - flinging episode, provoked by the star hitter's batting slump was in violation of league rules and a directive issued recently by Harridge, who reportedly was alarmed that a bat might bounce into the stands and injure someone

The report had an immediately soothing affect on the fiery Williams who kept a firm grip on his bat though he struck out three times in a row Thursday before getting a fluke double He carried the club back to the dugout.

Team to Practice

Belle Vernon's Prep League baseball team will practice tomorrow at the Fayette City diamond beginning at 11 a. m.

Manager Harold Ringstad's boys will take part in the Mon Yough League again this season.

Pitchers Steal Show in Majors; New York Yanks Pull Triple Play

By FRED DOWN

It's a slugger's era but those long-suffering pitchers have their days and nights, too And a few more feats like those of Thursday will have the hitters asking who took the rabbit out of the lively ball:

—Bob Turley, a last - minute replacement for Whitey Ford pitched a four-hitter and started the season's first triple play to give the New York Yankees a 3-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics

—Sandy Koufax, 21-year-old bonus whiz, equalled the season's single game high of 13 strikeouts and yielded only four hits in powering the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 3-2 decision over the Chicago Cubs

—Lindy McDaniel, 21-year-old St. Louis Cardinal bonus boy, also flipped a four-hitter and gained his first major league shutout with a 5-0 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies

—Bob Friend, scoring his first victory since April 28, scattered seven hits in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 2-1 win over the Milwaukee Braves

Williams Fans Thrice

—Jim Bunning struck out Ted Williams three times and hurled a five-hitter as the Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox, 2-1

—Billy Pierce yielded three homers but had an eight - hitter for his fifth win in the Chicago White Sox' 8-3 triumph over the Washington Senators

Fine pitching was also dominant in the other two games—both of which went 10 innings The Cincinnati Redlegs, taking over undisputed possession of first place in the National League shaded the New York Giants, 5-2 and the Cleveland Indians beat out the Baltimore Orioles, 4-3

Turley struck out seven and walked five in winning his first game of the year as Mickey Mantle got his sixth homer Turley grabbed Alex Kellner's pop bunt after walking two batters in the second to start the triple killing

Koufax extended the Cubs' home losing streak to eight Cub pitchers Moe Drabowsky and Turk Lown fanned 10 Dodgers, the two-team total of 23 strikeouts equalling the National League record. Duke Snider homered in the sixth

Wally Moon tripled home two runs in a four-run Cardinal fourth inning and McDaniel did the rest as no Philadelphia base runner reached third.

Braves Lose League Lead

The Pirates knocked Milwaukee out of first place when Friend survived a ninth-inning rally to win his third game Ed Mathews homered to open the ninth and Friend yielded three more hits before he finally retired the side Roberto Clemente homered for the Pirates.

Frank Bolling's home run got Detroit off in front in the first inning Williams doubled and scored the Red Sox' run in the ninth but his average dipped to 269

Bubba Phillips smashed five straight hits, including a homer and triple as the White Sox scored their fifth straight win and held first place in the American League by a half game. Two home runs by Roy Sievers and one by Jim Lemon produced Washington's runs

Frank Robinson singled home Wally Post with two out in the 10th to lift the Redlegs into the NL lead Tom Acker shut out the Giants for the last two innings to win his third game

Al Smith's double scored Jim Busby with Cleveland's winning run and gave Early Wynn his fourth win of the year Tito Francona and Ray Moore homered for the Orioles.

Gomulka Speech Is Studied

WASHINGTON (UP)—U.S. officials today studied an important speech by Poland's Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka to determine whether any change in American policy toward Poland may be necessary.

The tentative estimate here was that the speech itself does not call for any policy change. But final judgment was reserved pending receipt of a full text of the six-hour speech, and results of the Communist Central Committee meeting in Warsaw.

Poland and the United States are in the final stages of negotiating a 95 million dollar American aid agreement. These negotiations began in February after the Eisenhower administration found it would be in this country's best interests to give Poland an economic shot-in-the-arm.

This decision followed Poland's moves last fall to loosen its once-firm ties to Moscow. Any drastic switch now in Polish policy, therefore, undoubtedly would bring about a similar adjustment in American policy.

Officials said there was no sign Gomulka had retreated from his previous position that a distinctly Polish road to socialism could be followed as opposed to a distinctly Soviet road. He stopped short of criticism of the Soviet system.

Indoor Planting New Home Trend

One of the most striking new trends in home design is indoor planting, says the American Association of Nurserymen. Plant boxes frequently are used as room dividers, are built into entrance foyers, and provide a decorative touch for kitchens. Your local nurseryman can suggest many different plants suited for indoor cultivation.

Benson's Farm Program Appears Headed for Trouble in the House

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson's farm program today appeared to be in for further trouble in the House just as things began looking up in the Senate.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) of the House Agriculture Committee said Congress will turn down Benson's request for authority to reduce price supports on basic crops.

Cooley predicted the Benson proposal would not win support of a majority of committee Republicans, much less Democratic members.

The House Wednesday killed the main provisions of the administration's billion dollar soil bank plan by ordering a halt to the "acreage reserve" plan at the end of this year.

Benson denounced the action as "false economy" and looked to the Senate to restore the program. Key senators indicated they opposed the House move and were in favor of giving the program a longer chance to prove its worth.

Members of Cooley's committee generally agreed on the need for overhauling the farm program which has resulted in tight production controls on such major export crops as cotton, wheat and rice.

But that was as far as agreement appeared to go. Few took warmly to Benson's proposals but they apparently could not decide among a number of other plans.

Supports presently are set at 75 to 90 per cent of parity. Benson has asked the committee for power to fix supports at 60 to 90 per cent or 70 to 90 per cent.

Other congressional news:

Appropriations: Congress passed and sent to the White House its first appropriation bill — $3,884,927,000 to operate the Post Office and Treasury departments and U.S. Tax Court in fiscal 1958. The bill was cut $80,364,000 — $58,000,000 of it from postal requests. The postal cut virtually assured a new reduction in postal services in July.

Housing: The Senate Banking Committee overrode its subcommittee, and voted against reducing present minimums on house down-payments with federal mortgages. The committee also voted to keep public housing construction at 35,000 units a year for the next two years. The subcommittee had proposed 270,000 units for the period.

Disability: A House judiciary subcommittee has proposed that either the vice president or a special commission decide when a President is unable to carry on his duties. It left the choice up to the full judiciary committee.

Fingerprint Tests On Schedule for Admitted Slayer

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (UP)—State police today planned fingerprint tests to identify a mother whose son admitted he murdered her and buried her dismembered remains in an abandoned farmhouse.

Authorities Thursday arrested Clifford Watson, 41, Cincinnati, on a tip from a neighbor who saw his picture in a detective magazine.

Watson, a former Evansville, Ind., filling station operator, admitted he shot and killed his mother in 1954 and told authorities where her body could be found.

Deputies, on information from Cincinnati police, dug beneath the floor of an old farmhouse near here and uncovered the remains of a woman believed to be Mrs Pearl Hartlage, 56, Evansville.

Police said Watson readily admitted the slaying, but said it occurred accidentally during a scuffle with his mother at a gasoline station they operated.

Nuclear Test Is Postponed Once Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission's first nuclear test of its spring-summer series, twice postponed because of unfavorable weather and the danger of radioactive fallout, has been rescheduled for 5:50 a.m. p.d.t. Saturday.

The nuclear device was to have been set off at the same time Thursday from atop a 500-foot tower on the southern Nevada test site 75 miles northwest of here, but was postponed for the second straight day.

The AEC said winds blowing towards the southeast from the test site would have strewn radioactive fallout across a long, narrow area embracing Las Vegas, Boulder City and the Indian Springs Air Force Base.

The weather outlook for Saturday morning is "more promising" that it has been for the past several days, the AEC said.

Insanity Laws Are 'Ridiculous', Two Are Claiming

CHICAGO (UP)—A psychiatrist and a lawyer asserted today that laws covering temporary insanity are "ridiculous" and should be revised.

Dr. Leo L. Orenstein of New York University and Bellevue Medical Center, and attorney Alfred Weisstein discussed "Temporary Insanity As A Defense" at the 113th annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association.

They said the proof of temporary insanity should lie in demonstrating that the defendant's "ego functioning" was impaired to the point that his judgment, perception and self-control were affected.

The provision requiring court approval for the release of a former defendant from a medical institution is "ridiculous," they said.

An effort will be made, Columbus said, to obtain some high school girls to help with the sale.

Plans for the annual Past Post Commanders' banquet were also announced by Elliott Bianchi, chairman.

The affair will honor the immediate past commander, Vincent LaRocca, and main speaker will be William Tepsic, senior vice commander of the State VFW.

It will be held at the Post Home on Thursday, May 23, at 6:30 p. m.

Walter C. Culbertson, 24 Pacific Blvd., Monessen, was admitted as a new member.

Acceptance of an invitation to participate in the annual military parade which is held as part of the Veterans Memorial Week in Charleroi on Tuesday, July 2 was approved. The Post will send uniformed members and the jeep and carsson burial unit.

Announcement was also made of the annual 27th District encampment to be held Sunday, June 9 at the J. Howard Snyder Post 781, VFW, of Irwin.

Election and installation of officers will be held. R. J. Moschetti, of Greensburg, is present district commander.

Membership committee report was made by R. Mitchell Steen, Jr. while other reports were given by Walter Kwolek, senior vice commander and Edwin Melenyzer, chairmen of the building committee; Frederic Feldman, athletic officer; Edward Plevel, Boy Scout committeeman and Paul Komar, chaplain.

Feldman reported that the City Marble Tourney was won by a Junior High School student, Philip Reed. He will participate in the District tournament to be held Saturday in Greensburg. The state tournament will also be held in Greensburg the following Saturday, May 25.

Expansion of Industry Up

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader told the state Industrial Clinic here that Pennsylvania's industrial construction during 1956 totaled 383 million dollars last year, nearly one-third over the previous year.

The governor said the figure represented an increase of 113 million dollars expended in the state in industrial expansion over 1955 and provided at least 28,000 new factory jobs.

Leader attributed a portion of the increase to "pump priming" by the Industrial Development Authority and its five million dollar legislative grant. The governor added that if the Republican controlled Assembly drastically cut the five million dollar budget request for the 1957-59 biennium it would be "false economy."

Macmillan Wins Confidence Vote

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan defeated a Laborite vote of censure in the House of Commons Thursday night but ran into demands today that Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd resign.

Lloyd's opponents felt that he personified the last vestige of former Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's ill-fated Middle East policies and that he should be replaced.

Macmillan himself was turning his attention to a major new campaign to guarantee future British oil supplies regardless of developments in the Middle East.

They were charged with shoplifting.

Garbage Man Wants Dignity, Expert Claims

NEWARK, N.J. (UP) — A top garbage industry leader, who operates the largest dump in the state, said today high on the list of what a garbage man wants is dignity.

"We're trying to put the collection of refuse on a higher plane," Alfred J. Lippman, president of Fereday & Meyer Co., Inc., told the United Press.

"Garbage collectors actually are disposal experts. . .specialists in municipal refuse collection. . . practicers of a kind of science."

Lippman, whose firm hauls municipal waste under contracts with city governments and also carts away industrial refuse under company contracts, said garbage collection has "gone modern" with such things as fully automatic trucks and "scientific disposal techniques."

In addition, he said "we've attracted a better type of man." Working conditions are better now and wages are running five and six times what they were 25 years ago.

Negro 'Prayer Pilgrimage' Is Held

WASHINGTON (UP) — An estimated 30,000 persons marched to the Lincoln Memorial today to pray for "racial justice" and civil rights legislation to protect America's minorities.

They were taking part in the huge Negro "Prayer Pilgrimage For Freedom," rally which attracted participants from all parts of the nation.

Although the meeting was primarily a religious one, one unwelcome group apparently planned to march in. U.S. Communists were reported to have put top priority on infiltrating the pilgrimage to exploit it for propaganda purposes.

Marks School Decision

The meeting was designed to commemorate the third anniversary of the Supreme Court decision banning school segregation. It also planned as a protest against violence to Negroes in the South and a plea for passage of civil rights legislation at this session of Congress.

Robert E. McLaughlin, president of the three-man board of commissioners of the District of Columbia, welcomed leaders of the pilgrimage and handed over the city's keys in ceremonies at his office.

Pilgrimage co-chairmen are the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott; A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association For The Advancement of Colored People.

Strong Backing

The meeting has been endorsed by Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders, and a host of labor organizations.

The formal three-hour ceremony on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial featured speeches by King, Reps. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) and Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich.) and others. Spiritual singer Mahalia Jackson was scheduled to sing a hymn.

A wreath was to be laid at the foot of the stately Lincoln statue by James and Theresa Gordon, Negro children who briefly attended a white school at Clay, Ky., in the face of mob threats. They now live in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Graham's Crusade Is Rolling

NEW YORK (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Thursday night his crusade against New York's crime and sin already appears to be more successful than any campaign he has ever undertaken. He said the New York Crusade is backed by "probably the greatest concentration of prayer in the history of the Christian Church."

"People the world over are praying for the success of this crusade," he said. "This is the one everyone is interested in. I can feel their prayers."

Graham's second night audience at Madison Square Garden was logged by Garden officials at 13,000, a drop of 5,500 from the near capacity gathering at opening night. But Graham said he thought it was proportionately a record for a second night. "It always drops off the second night and then it gathers momentum," he said.

Yankee Stadium

The energetic evangelist said he was so encouraged by the turnout for his war on sin that he expects to extend it well beyond the originally planned six weeks. He said he hoped to hold a giant outdoor meeting for 100,000 persons this fall in Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds.

Some 545 "inquirers" made decisions for Christ" Thursday night after hearing Graham in a fiery indictment of "this morally sick world." The handsome, 38-year-old crusader dropped some of the restraint of his previous night's sermon, but the address still was somewhat short of the "hell fire and brimstone" of an old-fashioned revival meeting.

Earlier Thursday, Graham told a group of ministers that "God will hear the prayers of his people until the cleansing stream will flow like a river through this great metropolis."

He told the ministers his crusade was on the verge of scoring a "major breakthrough" in the battle to win the city's "unchurched" millions to Christ.

Shah of Iran Plans Campaign To Help Nation

TEHRAN (UP) — The Shah of Iran today announced a campaign to improve living conditions in Iran in a drive to wipe out Communism.

He disclosed his intentions in an exclusive interview with United Press.

The better-living program will include the setting up of an opposition political party to give the Moslem nation's 20-million inhabitants a bigger voice in the government.

"The people of this country have a right to a better existence and a decent way of life, and it is the responsibility of the government to see that it is achieved," Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi said.

The 37-year-old Swiss-educated monarch said a more effective system of collecting taxes and the "proper" use of oil revenues and technical aid from the United States would help to achieve this goal.

He said a party system of government soon would begin to operate in the country to allow the people greater latitude in their own affairs.

The formation of an opposition party was announced Thursday.

Outfoxes Police

CHAGFORD, England (UP)—William Fowler was still at large from Dartmoor Prison today after a full pack of foxhounds failed to find him. The hounds, led by a horn-blowing hunt master, were called out by police Thursday to assist in the manhunt. After a quick run through the countryside they flushed out a fox.

Third Fatality Of Atomic Test

NAGASAKI, Japan (UP)—Atom bombed Nagasaki today reported its third fatality this year from the nuclear blast on Aug. 9, 1945.

He was Masaji Hamazato, 64, a village master, who died Thursday morning in the Nagasaki University Hospital.

Hamazato was an instructor in the Mitsubishi Trade School at Nagasaki, 2½ miles from the site of the A-bomb blast. He suffered cuts from broken glass. After complaining of stomach trouble and falling hair for two months, he apparently recovered.

Lions Elect Officers; Hear Talk on Blind Association

Blindness is Your Business was the subject of a talk given by Cyril Mosier, Fayette County director of the Blind Association, at a meeting of the Fayette City Lions Club Thursday evening in the Methodist Church dining room.

Mosier stated that every 20 minutes someone loses their sight and of this group nearly 95 per cent could retain vision with the proper medical attention and care. Last year there were approximately 800 Fayette countians reaching the blind or near blind stage.

The club voted a donation to the Association following the inspiring talk. Mosier was accompanied by Myra Ruane, social worker.

The meeting was directed by Richard Richardson. Group singing was led by Jack Stockton and accompanist was Mrs. James Stathers. Paul Jesick gave the invocation.

Following Mosier's talk the annual election of officers was held. The slate as presented at the April meeting was adopted and the following were named to head the club during the 1957-58 year.

Robert Premoshis, president; Vernon Smith, first vice president; Stephen Figel, second vice-president; George Toth, third vice-president; Jasper Hare, secretary; J. H. Renstrom, treasurer; John Bake, lion tamer; Leroy Gardner, tail twister; Jack Stockton, Paul Jesick and Emil Huttner, directors.

Huttner was named program chairman for the next meeting of the club. New officers will be installed at the June meeting.

Poppy Plans in Fay. City Area Are Announced

Mrs. Kate Roy, Poppy chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary to the Brightwell-Daugherty Post, has announced her schedule for poppy sales in the several districts of the area served by the post and is busy securing workers for each district.

Poppies will be sold in the Fairhope, Marion and Fayette City schools on Wednesday, June 22; at Allenport mill, Thursday, June 23, and on Friday a house to house tag day will be carried out by members of the women's organization.

The territory will include Fayette City, Gillespie, Lowbar, Brownstown, Naomi, Fairhope, Lynnwood and Arnold City. In the last three districts the Girl Scouts will be in charge under the leadership of Mrs. J. DePaola and Mrs. Weldon Thrasher.

As is customary members of the organization have the privilege of purchasing and wearing a corsage of poppies. The women have made corsages from poppies they have purchased from the veterans who are hospitalized and use this method of securing funds.

Fayette County Fair Committees Named

Four committees for the annual Fayette County Fair were appointed at a recent meeting.

At the same time, officials fixed August 27, 28 29 and 30 as the definite dates for the annual attraction to be held on the Swaney Farm. The officials currently are preparing the enlarged area for the fair.

It was stated following the meeting that home talent and other entertainment will be offered in addition to various rides and amusements.

Other committees will be appointed at a meeting scheduled for May 22.

The groups named:

To Dedicate Shrine Sunday

FRANKLIN, Pa. (UP)—Dedication ceremonies will be held here Sunday, June 2, for a national shrine to Our Lady of Africa. The Roman Catholic shrine was sponsored by the White Fathers of Africa.

The Most Rev. Edward McManaman, auxiliary bishop of Erie, Pa., will formally dedicate and bless the shrine, which features an almost life-sized replica of a dark-complexioned statue of Our Lady of Africa which stands at Algiers.

The dedication falls on the eve of the 71st anniversary of the execution of the Blessed Martyrs of Ugunda, 22 young Catholic converts who were put to death by pagans in 1886 for refusing to renounce their faith. The 22 were converted by the White Fathers, an order of the church which was founded in Algiers by Cardinal Lavigerie, "The Lincoln of Africa," in 1868.

The Rev. J. Alfred Richard, W. F., United States provincial of the White Fathers, said the shrine here was proposed principally to spread devotion to Our Lady of Africa in this country.

Students Protest H-tests

TOKYO (UP) — Ten thousand jeering Japanese students waving banners proclaiming "British Fools" and "Ban H-bomb Tests" converged on the British Embassy today and put it in a virtual state of siege.

More than 1,000 police were rushed to the embassy armed with long white riot sticks, pistols, short clubs and tear gas to stop the demonstrators against Britain's current Pacific H-bomb tests from forcing their way into the compound.

The compound gates were locked and no one could get in or out. Embassy personnel were virtual prisoners.

After the leftist - inspired demonstration had gone on for several hours, the embassy agreed to receive a delegation of four student leaders.

The four were pushed out of the compound shortly afterward by C. F. Hill, second secretary of the embassy, who said they had become abusive inside the embassy.

No serious violence was reported but one group of 25 youths and adults who squatted in the embassy driveway and hurled leaflets in the air was hauled away in police vans.

Friendly Escaper

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP)—James Mansfield, 50, serving 30 days for drunkenness, escaped over the stockade fence Thursday. While police were chasing him, Mansfield returned to the stockade in a pickup truck and picked up his buddy, William Cawthon, also 50, and serving an identical sentence. Police now are looking for both of them.

House Rejects Leader's Program

HARRISBURG (UP)—The General Assembly's Republican majority yesterday formally rejected Gov. George M. Leader's higher education program with House approval for a comprehensive study of college education in the state.

The House passed a GOP-sponsored resolution by voice vote to request the Joint State Government Commission to make an extensive survey of problems of higher education. The resolution, which goes to the Senate for concurrence, directed the Assembly's research arm to report the survey results to the 1959 Legislature.

House GOP Floor Leader Albert W. Johnson said the governor's program would not be reported from the chamber's Education Committee this session. He added that identical bills in the Senate would face the same fate if they reached the House.

The governor's program calls for enactment of a one-cent per bottle soft drink tax to finance annual grants of 5,000 college scholarships, set up a student loan fund, and establish junior colleges in areas where four-year college facilities are lacking.

Johnson said a complete and thorough study of the governor's program was needed so the Assembly could act intelligently. He added the problem was not as acute as Leader had indicated.

"Deferring action on any type of higher education legislation will not create any hardships in the state," Johnson said.

Johnson added that college and university leaders told him present facilities were sufficient for at least another four years. He said higher education would need help sometime after 1960 according to the state's population trend.

House Democrats debated against the resolution and asserted immediate action was needed on the governor's program. However, most supported the resolution as what they termed "a substitute for the real thing."

Awards Contract for Interceptor Missile

The jet propelled pilotless vehicle is designed to knock down enemy bombers "at a far greater distance than any other missile presently in use in air defense," the announcement said.

The Boeing Airplane Co., Seattle, Wash., received a $7,109,195 contract "for production models."

MR. CRUM'S 'FOUL' LANGUAGE

Reports have come to me that "YOU" made SLANDEROUS and LIBELOUS remarks about me in one of the City's leading restaurants at 1:00 a. m. Monday. "YOU" had called me EVERY "FILTHY" name you could think of; including calling me "DUMB", STUPID, and a LIAR. "YOU" and Parente GOT AWAY with it FOUR years ago, by spreading such FALSE "PAID" PROPAGANDA. The people WILL "WAKE" UPand find out WHO'S "DUMB", stupid and a liar. You can't FOOL the people TWICE on the same issues, plus new blundering recent issues. You are FRIGHTENED and DESPERATE for votes which you are losing EVERY DAY, because I have CONVINCING ARGUMENT TO PROVE where Parente's machine "BLUNDERED". RENT a large hall and get a large audience, and give me a good chance to "AROUSE" the PUBLIC on the kind of "blundering mistakes" that go on in City Hall. Show them the DICTATOR, Gestapo type of elections being staged in Monessen.

Parente did not appoint me, a college-educated man, to any of his authorities or commissions; because HE "FEARED" ME, not because you say I am "DUMB". It took EIGHT years to decide AFTER "FIVE" different parking surveys were made; and on top of that permitted the Parking Plaza to be built in the WRONG LOCATION. Traded in penny parking meters and thereby wasted about $15,000 by your "EXPERIENCED" wasteful blundering mistakes. These are facts and FIGURES and figures don't LIE.

Parente and "YOU" are VERY WORRIED, because a FOURTH TERM is very hard to get, and you have found out that you are SLIPPING very fast, especially when Parente promised FOUR years ago that he would NOT RUN for re-election and because of his broken promises and blundering mistakes.

THE people of Monessen know ME, NEVER was I so stupid or dumb as "YOU" think or say. By the way, YOU were indicted in connection with the VOTE FRAUD. Mr. Crum I can teach you a FEW THINGS. Parente (indirectly) is now head to head with a man who can read "PARENTE'S" cards without seeing them. SURE I'M GIVING HIM AND YOU A VERY HARD TIME. YOU "ALL" are CONCERNED over my true, CONVINCING articles written by a college graduate, not by a political "PAID" propagandist.

WHAT RIGHT have "YOU" to tell a friend to take "MY" SIGNS off his car? Stop being a DICTATOR. Why are slate placards in certain store windows and MINE were taken out? IS this a FREE country? I have the right and guts to fight you both with the "SAME" weapons YOU have used for 12 years. The only difference, mine is the truth, which is hurting in the RIGHT places. Please STOP "CROWING" about progress in Monessen and for WORK DONE BY OTHERS! We heard a story where a ROOSTER "CROWED" every morning the SUN ROSE; and the ROOSTER said to the chickens that HE MADE THE SUN COME UP. But one day the ROOSTER got sick, and the SUN STILL CAME UP. The chickens said to one another that the ROOSTER WAS A "FAKER". So, my dear VOTERS, you can JUDGE who's a liar?

I'll have to get SOAP and water to CLEAN OUT your mouth. YOU'RE lucky my friend DIDN'T have you arrested. IF "YOU" are any kind of a good "GENTLEMAN", "YOU" will apologize in public BEFORE ELECTION DAY, for degrading MY GOOD CHARACTER AND NAME or I will be forced to institute a LAW SUIT. I have MANY witnesses.

ON THE ROAD TO PROGRESS

Secretary of Commerce Wm. Davlin

Webster Road Project Okayed

April 13, 1957

Editorials—

Good Day's Work

A MONESSEN delegation headed by Mayor Hugo Parente apparently did a good day's work for the whole Valley in Harrisburg Thursday.

The group was able to secure, direct from Governor Leader and Secretary of Highways Lawley, an immediate go-ahead for some major improvements to Route 906 between Monessen and Webster.

These probably will include a "benching" of the cliffs that overhang this road to prevent the dangerous slides which have made it hazardous and difficult to maintain.

But the Governor's observations have real point none the less. Monessen's ambitions for self-improvement are proceeding with fine spirit and intelligent direction, and if these continue, we shall discover many times how helpful it is to know exactly where we are going and to be determined to get there.

Redevelopment Is Making Progress

MONESSEN'S ambitious redevelopment program seems to be making very satisfactory progress.

AT ANY RATE, our city officials and civic leaders continue to work with intelligent zeal on this program which means so much to the future of Monessen.

The former may be somewhat inspired by the imminence of the municipal elections, but as we have noted here before, there is nothing wrong with political eager-beaverism when it is producing good results for the community.

But the Daily Independent remains convinced that this way lies a better, brighter future for this community.

Long Proxy Fight Comes to End

CHICAGO (UP)—Federal Judge Joseph Sam Perry today approved an agreement ending the prolonged proxy fight between Fairbanks-Morse & Co and Penn-Texas Corp.

The agreement was reached last Friday in out-of-court negotiations between the principals—Robert H. Morse Jr., board chairman of Fairbanks-Morse, and Leopold Silberstein, head of Penn-Texas.

Under the agreement, each side will place five directors on the 11-man board of Fairbanks-Morse. The 11th directorship will be filled by a mutually acceptable neutral.

Perry will retain jurisdiction in the case for the life of the agreement, five years. He signed a consent decree order accepting the compromise settlement and dismissing Fairbanks-Morse's suit against Silberstein and Penn-Texas.

Fairbanks-Morse had sued to prevent the Penn-Texas interests from voting their stock on grounds some or all of it was obtained in an illegal conspiracy.

Under the compromise Penn-Texas will sell to Fairbanks-Morse 300,000 shares of Fairbanks-Morse stock that it acquired during the proxy battle, at a price of $50 a share to be financed by the issuance of convertible debentures.

Penn-Texas agreed to refrain from further attempts to gain control of Fairbanks-Morse during the five-year period.

Morse, on the other hand, agreed to refrain from participating in any future proxy contests with Penn-Texas.

The annual stockholders' meeting, which was adjourned March 27, will be reconvened May 28 under the court order for the formal election of directors, now a mere formality.

Income Soars To New High

WASHINGTON (UP)—The personal income of all Americans soared to another new record in April. The Commerce Department reported today personal income last month was at an annual rate of $339,500,000,000. This was about one billion dollars higher than in March and 18 billion dollars above April, 1956.

The continuous rise in personal income has kept the economy moving upward in recent months despite some soft spots like housing and automobiles.

Personal income includes wages and salaries, income from proprietorships and partnerships, dividends and interest, net rents, and other types of individual income.

Protestant Churches To Take Long Steps To 'Draw Together'

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two pioneers of the Protestant ecumenical movement predicted today that American churches will take historic steps toward unity at a 43-denomination meeting at Oberlin, Ohio, late this summer.

Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert and the Rt. Rev. Angus Dun said in separate interviews that the "North American Faith And Order Conference" on the campus of Oberlin College Sept. 3-10 will rank as one of the most important meetings ever held in the long, slow effort to heal the divisions of Christendom.

Cavert is U. S. executive secretary of the World Council of Churches. Dun is Protestant Episcopal bishop of Washington. Both are wheelhorses in the reunion movement which churchmen call "ecumenism" (from the greek word for "drawing together.")

At Oberlin, 400 representatives of major U. S. and Canadian church bodies will talk over the specific differences in doctrine ecclesiastical organization and policy which keep Protestants divided into a multiplicity of denominations.

No Merger Wave Seen

Dun, who is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the conference, said no one expects the Oberlin discussions to result in an immediate wave of denominational mergers. But he is confident that the meeting will lead to "profound progress in mutual understanding, friendship and respect," and thereby lay the groundwork for later attempts to work out actual schemes of reunion.

Cavert said a main purpose of the meeting is to determine "how much consensus of doctrine we actually have on which to build a united church."

He predicted that the churches represented at the conference will discover that they have "a much greater body of basic doctrine in common than they generally realize."

"I think we will learn from candid discussion of our differences that there already is a great deal of unity among us on the essentials of faith," he said.

Will Take "Generation"

Cavert said it probably will take "a generation" to bring about formal, organic unity of a large number of Protestant denominations. But he said the churches are "moving definitely in that direction" because they recognize increasingly that their divisions are an affront to God's will.

The ecumenical movement also is being pushed along, he said, by a strong sentiment among laymen that it is scandalous and unnecessary for Protestants to remain "splintered" into sects.

There are more than 250 known Protestant bodies in the United States and Canada. The 43 which will meet at Oberlin represent the vast majority of the total membership, however, and include most of the large, well-known denominations which already are cooperating in such organizations as the National and World Council of Churches. Biggest holdout from the ecumenical movement is the nine million member Southern Baptist Convention.

In a fairyland setting of "Alice in Wonderland" background the annual class night program and May Queen crowning was presented by the Bellmar High School graduating class of 1957 last night in the High School auditorium.

Class President Rudy Houseman introduced the presentation and the two readers were Catherine Runfola and Connie Sue Alberta. The approach of the Queen and her Court was heralded by a toe dance by an underclassman, Mary Ann Solomon in the role of "Tinker Bell".

May Queen Betty Roman was preceded down the aisle by a procession of senior girl's carrying floral arches through which the court approached the stage. Phyllis Conn was in the role of crown bearer and the train bearers were two kindergarten students, Kathy Houseman and Michael Tedesco.

Jean Smider, May Queen of 1956 crowned Miss Roman as a preface to the program.

A group of boys represented "The Boys from Never Never Land", who wouldn't grow up and opened the presentation with a novelty song. John Hewitt as "Captain Hook" read the Class Will. Donice Lehew as "Cinderella" sang "A Dream Is A Wish Your Heart Makes".

The Senior Trio, Carla Butler, Marjean Clark and Elva Corbin sang "Teddy Bears On Parade", while a group of students as Teddy Bears danced and performed stunts.

Frank Roskovich as the "Wizard of Oz" read the Class Prophecy. Steward Wells and Ronald Jones as trumpeteers played a duet, "Indian Love Call" and Jackie Cirillo did an Indian dance. Darlene Johnston as "Snow White" sang "Some Day My Prince Will Come" and was later heard in a duet with John Hewitt. Carole Wasicek did a humorous monologue and a tuba duet was played by John Hewitt and Conrad Lupori.

Bucky catrino, Student Council president, presented the class key to Jack Blair, Junior president.

Throughout the program there were story book characters such as Peter Pan, the Teddy Bears, the Fairy Godmother and a Bunny Chorus taking part.

Cherie Nogy read "What Is A Girl" and "What Is A Boy" as Rudy Houseman introduced the trainbearers, his sister, Kathy and Michael Tedesco.

Singing "The Halls of Bellmar" were John Hewitt, Bob Beggs, Bucky Catrino, Byron Carter, Rudy Houseman and Barry Miller. All the boys in the court sang "So Long It's Been Good to Know You" with original parodies.

Bill Schmidt, class treasurer, presented a cash gift to the school, which was accepted by High School Principal Raymond Barker. He also presented gifts to the faculty sponsors, Miss Dorothy Gorio and Mrs. Kathryn Vance, who were in charge of this program and many other activities. Mrs. Hazel Hixenbaugh, who wrote the Commencement program and Miss Ruth Frost, who directed the Senior Play.

Recreation Area Work at Marion School Started

Robert VanBremen, supervising principal of the Bellmarette Joint Schools, announced yesterday that work on a recreation area behind the Marion Junior High School is now underway.

In 1939 the Washington Township School District acquired 18 acres of ground part of which the Marion Junior High School has been erected on and part of which will be utilized by the planned addition to the school. Enough remains however to provide a baseball diamond and a recreation area. The ground was obtained from the Pittsburgh Coal Co.

School Boards in previous years and the present School Board comprised of John Kasuda, president. Leo Valdiserri, vice president; Blandon Bulger, secretary; Richard Hamer, treasurer and Stanley Koslosky have been working on the plan in which they hope to interest township groups in helping to provide picnic tables, ovens, fireplaces and other facilities for outdoor fun.

VanBremen and Marion Junior High School Principal Harold Underwood, along with the board, are also emphasizing the need for the baseball diamond since interest in that sport is returning to many township groups.

The present board contracted with Rathway Co., which has moved heavy equipment in and started a leveling off process. Since the ground is comparatively level it is being done with small cost to township taxpayers. Township groups have been receptive to the project and present plans call for recreational facilities for the children and adults alike.

Red China's Program in Trouble

HONG KONG (UP)—Administrative mistakes, shortages of goods and grumbling among the people have forced Red leaders to slow the pell-mell economic expansion of Communist China.

In its final year, China's first five-year plan is in trouble. The Communists blame floods and drought but they also admit that they tried to do too much too fast. They confess that they made errors and failed to win the wholehearted cooperation of the people.

The overhauling of what Peiping hoped would be a mammoth economic juggernaut should not be construed as a sign the Reds are utter failures. That is not so. They have made tremendous strides. But they have now been forced to cut back their ambitious goals.

Attempts will be made this year to strike a better balance between industrial production and the output of consumer goods. The revised program does not mean, however, that the man - in - the-street will necessarily win a higher standard of living.

Decrease For Everyone

Both industry and the public will have to settle for less.

China's 600 million inhabitants are leveling more and more criticism at the regime, reports from the Communists themselves indicate. The public is upset by rising prices and shortages of food and consumer goods.

But Chia To-Fu, vice-chairman of the National Economic Commission told a conference in Peiping, "The people's livelihood can only be improved gradually, on a small scale and with low speed."

The 1957 program calls for cuts in capital building because of a steel shortage which led to a reduction in the manufacture of machinery and building materials. Production of oil, coal, iron, steel, copper and cement "had to be cut," Chia said.

He admitted such other shortages as cotton cloth and yarn, edible vegetable oil, paper and timber.

"Certain gaps are bound to appear in the market supply of commodities," Chia said.

To counter the surplus of cash which will appear in consumer pockets with fewer goods to buy, Chia warned that wages would be frozen—or, as he put it, "controlled in a well - planned manner."

Stocks of cotton cloth will be more strictly rationed to prevent a shortage next winter. Coal and firewood must be used sparingly. Farmers have been urged to use natural fertilizer to conserve chemical fertilizer.

Students Put To Work

To increase production, students who are not headed for higher educational institutions are being put to work on factories and farms. But at the same time tens of thousands of farmers irritated by shortages in rural areas are flooding into the cities.

Reports from the mainland say the farmers are being driven back at gunpoint if necessary.

Heavy drought crippled farm output in many areas last year and now floods have come along to plague Peiping's planners. Heavy rains in Central China, especially in the Yangtse Valley, threaten to wipe out the winter wheat crop.

Much as they may blame natural calamities, the Communists admit there are other factors. They say low-level officials have failed to apply Communism "properly."

To counter this, Peiping has ordered a nationwide "rectification" program so that Red cadres are better equipped to explain matters to the man-in-the-street.

Signs Bill to Increase Pension

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader has signed into law a series of bills to increase the pension payments of retired municipal workers in the city of Pittsburgh.

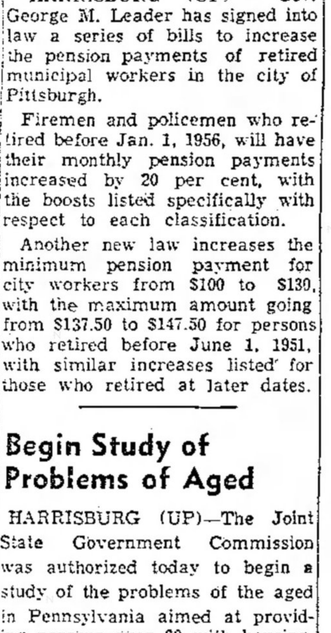
Firemen and policemen who retired before Jan. 1, 1956, will have their monthly pension payments increased by 20 per cent, with the boosts listed specifically with respect to each classification.

Another new law increases the minimum pension payment for city workers from $100 to $130, with the maximum amount going from $137.50 to $147.50 for persons who retired before June 1, 1951, with similar increases listed for those who retired at later dates.

Begin Study of Problems of Aged

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Joint State Government Commission was authorized today to begin a study of the problems of the aged in Pennsylvania aimed at providing persons over 60 with housing, care and recreational facilities.

A resolution sponsored by state Sens. Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford); William J. Lane (D-Washington); Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong); Frank R. Ruth (D-Berks) and Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton), and approved unanimously by the Senate Wednesday, directs the commission to "study and investigate the various methods of best solving the problems of the aged."



DUET NOW SOLO — Peruvian singer Yma Sumac sits in court in Santa Monica, Calif., where she won a default interlocutory divorce from Moises Vivanco. He had been declared father of twins born to Miss Sumac's 21-year-old former social secretary. Miss Sumac gets custody of the couple's son Charles, 8. But Vivianco continues as her manager, at a pay of half her income as a singer.

Bill to Regulate Sunday Business

HARRISBURG (UP)—The General Assembly today studied legislation which would require a local referendum to authorize some retail and wholesale stores to conduct business on Sundays.

A bill introduced Wednesday by Sens. Harry E. Seyler (D-York), Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), Ernest F. Walker (R-Cambria) and Jo Hays (D-Centre) would prohibit most stores from making Sunday sales, under a $500 penalty, unless specifically authorized by a municipal referendum. The bill would not apply to hotels, motels, restaurants, drug stores, or service stations, and would not prevent stores from receiving telephone calls "in the ordinary course of its business."

Agriculture Dept. in Redrafting of Rules

WASHINGTON (UP) -The Agriculture Department has redrafted its rules and regulations to make plain it has no intention of censoring agricultural films and TV programs.

The action was taken after a House information subcommittee accused the department of, in effect, threatening censorship of films and TV programs not following the department's policy lines.

The films and TV shows involved deal with farming and agriculture on which the producers request department help and information.

Subcommittee Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.), in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, praised the department for the rules changes and its announced "open door" policy on departmental information.

Moss told Benson that the changes "specifically exempts news photographers from any possible departmental censorship."

The rules changes also canceled a prohibition to which the subcommittee objected forbidding any sponsorship of movie or TV films which the department helped produce by manufacturers of alcoholic beverages.

The department denied emphatically that it ever intended to impose censorship or any restriction on departmental information.

But it said that it was perhaps best to alter its regulations to make certain that his was plainly clear. I also said it was pleased to "restate the department's continuing policy to make information freely available."

Sigma Delta Chi in 25th Presentation of Journalism Awards

NEW YORK (UP)—Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, Thursday night presented service awards to winners in 15 categories for outstanding work in the press, radio, television and research during 1956.

Press awards went to Alfred Kuettner, United Press bureau manager in Atlanta, Ga., for general reporting; Russell Jones, United Press, for foreign correspondence; Sylvan Meyer, Gainesville (Ga.) Daily Times, for editorial writing; Bem Price, Associated Press, for Washington correspondence; Dan Tompkins, Santa Monica (Calif.) Outlook, news picture; Herbert L. Block, Washington (D.C.) Post and Times-Herald, editorial cartooning, and the Portland (Ore.) Oregonian, for public service in newspaper journalism.

John Bartlow Martin, of the Saturday Evening Post, was cited for magazine reporting, and Life magazine for public service in magazine journalism.

Radio awards went to Howard K. Smith, Columbia Broadcasting System, London, for radio news-writing; Edward (Johnny) Green, station KPHO, Phoenix, Ariz., for radio reporting, and the CBS radio network, New York, for public service in radio journalism.

Recipients of television awards were Ernest Leiser and Jerry Schwartzkopff, of CBS, and Julian B. Hoshal and Dick Hance, of KSTP-TV, Minneapolis - St. Paul, for television reporting, and KPIX, San Francisco, for public service in television journalism.

Theodore B. Peterson, of the University of Illinois, received an award for restarch about journalism.

Winners of the awards were chosen by 59 journalists and other distinguished persons from nominations made by individuals, newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations and networks, schools of journalism, civic organizations, and members and chapters of Sigma Delta Chi.

Elmer C. Walzer, financial editor of United Press, was elected president of the Deadline Club, New York chapter of the fraternity, succeeding Samuel Lesch, national news editor of the Wall Street Journal.

Kuettner was cited "for his searching and comprehensive analysis of the reaction of Southerners to the desegregation order of the Supreme Court.

"Writing under widely separated datelines, Mr. Kuettner revealed the sentiment of all classes of both races," the citation said. "As a result, his clear, crisp writing displayed depth of perception and a remarkable degree of objectivity on what has probably been the major emotional issue of the generation."

Jones' citation said:

"Russell Jones was among the able American reporters who covered the story of the Hungarian revolt and its consequences. He brought to readers a feeling of being on the spot at one of the greatest crises of history. In gathering and filing his material under constant pressure of deadlines, he faced great personal danger and unimaginable adversity, yet his dispatches were models of clarity, dramatic impact and completeness. His personal interpretation, written after his escape from Hungary, gave readers a new perspective from which to assess the ultimate significance of the events."

Jones, the only American correspondent in Budapest at the height of the Hungarian revolt, previously won the Pulitzer Prize and Overseas Press Club's George Polk Award.

Leader to Meet on Legislation May 22

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader said today he will ask legislative leaders of both parties to meet with him May 22 for further discussion on what legislation will be enacted during the remainder of the session.

The governor said invitations will go to the same leaders who conferred with him early this month on both the administration program and that proposed by the Republican leadership.

"We hope that further discussion will result in further areas of agreement on legislative matters," the governor said.

Liquor Board Cites Several

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Liquor Control Board has suspended the licenses of these western Pennsylvania establishments, effective June 7:

Paul A. and Lena J. Mathes, Rustic Isle RD 2, Duncansville, 20 days, sales to visibly intoxicated persons, gambling, permitted employes to contact and-or associate with patrons on the licensed premises; Guys and Dolls Cocktail Bar, 5600 Baum Blvd., Pittsburgh, 20 days, Sunday sales, sales between 2 a.m. and 7 a.m.; Nick's Lunch Room, 1051 Brackenridge Ave., Brackenridge, 30 days, Sunday sales, permitted a female to serve liquor and-or malt or brewed beverages behind the bar; Pixie Grill, 302 E. Second St., Erie, 15 days, sales to intoxicated persons.

Coal Reserves In Area Unmined, Geologist Says

"Approximately 87 per cent of Western Pennsylvania's coal reserves are yet unmined," according to Dr. George F. Deasy, professor of geography at the Pennsylvania State University.

"However, the 13 per cent already mined represents the finest and most easily mined coals in the State."

The present problems of underprotection and unemployment that face Western Pennsylvania's coal industry, according to Dr. Deasy, are due not only to competition from petroleum and natural gas but also to competition from the coal industries of West Virginia and Ohio where more cheaply mined coals still are available.

Future mining operations in Western Pennsylvania will continue to be handicapped unless coal research programs enable Pennsylvania miners to operate more efficiently than out-of-state competitors, says Dr. Deasy.

To Withdraw from Jointure

RIDGWAY, Pa. (UP) — Jones Twp. school board directors served notice today that the community wants to withdraw from the Johnsonburg School jointure.

The jointure went into effect last September under a three year agreement and includes 1,350 students from Jones Twp., Johnsonburg Borough and part of Ridgway Twp.

A board spokesman said the withdrawal move developed "because our citizens have never been happy about the jointure." He said 93 per cent of the taxpayers petitioned for the withdrawal.

Under the jointure, Jones Twp. high school students attended classes at Johnsonburg High School. All seventh and eighth grade students in the district recite in the building which formerly housed Jones high school students.

Before resuming its high school, Jones Twp. must first receive permission from the State Dept. of Public Instruction in Harrisburg.

The state grants lost must be made up through local taxes, a spokesman pointed out.

COMFORTS KILLER GRANDSON — Weeping, Mrs. Maren Madsen tries to comfort her grandson Lawrence, 14, in Chicago after he told police how he strangled two and a half year old Lise Jorgensen and buried her body under a stairway in an apartment building.

Railroads Seek Fare Boost

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Pennsylvania, Reading Co., and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads today asked the Public Utility Commission to approve substantial commuter fare increases for their commuter lines serving Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

Commission officials said the increases proposed by all three railroads were generally the same. The companies asked for these fare boosts effective June 16:

Monday through Friday monthly tickets, $2.70; unrestricted monthly tickets, $3; weekly tickets, 75 cents; 24-trip tickets, 7½ cents per ticket; school tickets, $2.25.

The PUC said the proposed rate schedules submitted by the three railroads indicated the increase for most short distances for commuters using the unrestricted monthly tickets would be less than the maximum $3 sought by them.

The Pennsylvania said the increases would also apply to its Philadelphia-Wilmington, Del. line and the Philadelphia-Atlantic City, N.J. run of the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Line.

PRR officials said commuter service operating deficits are mounting because of labor and material cost increases. They said they believed it was "fairer" to make a flat increase rather than a percentage increase since all commuters were involved.

Duty Calls Twice

FORT DIX, N.J. (UP)—A private in basic training here scheduled to run an obstacle course under fire Monday has reported a conflict in dates. Pvt. Victor La Bianco said he has received a notice from his draft board to report for a pre-induction physical the same day.

Bill Would Boost Speed Limit to 55

HARRISBURG (UP)—Legislation to increase the general automobile speed limit from 50 to 55 miles per hour on the state's free highways was ready for possible action by the General Assembly.

The House bill was brought to the chamber's floor Wednesday by the Motor Vehicles Committee. However, the committee reduced the proposed speed limit from 60 to 55 in amending the original bill.

Art Carney to Go After the Star Role

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Now that the cast of the Jackie Gleason show is scattering, Art Carney plans to put his sewer - cleaning stooge character in mothballs and become a star himself.

Since 1950 Carney has been pla ing second fiddle, and a hilarious one, to the rotund Jackie on his weekly CBS-TV show. The program folds next month, leaving Carney minus his department of sanitation job.

He figures that having collected three Emmys on the program it's time for the fellow who's long been a comedians' stooge to start being a "Top Banana" himself.

Starring in dramatic shows and a spectacular, "Charley's Aunt," this past season has spurred him to standing alone more often—possibly on a monthly show of his own.

Shuns Stooge Roles

"I'm not particularly interested in stooge roles in series at this stage of the game," is the way the modest and somewhat shy Carney puts it.

"However," adds the comic who always has had the protection of working with other comedians, "I've never knocked myself out to get my own weekly starring show. I'm just not geared for a lot of responsibility. I've seen other comics do stooge work and then try something on their own. It very seldom works.

"But I've had talks with the networks about doing a show once a month. "Maybe a variety show one month, a dramatic play the next, a book show like 'Charley's Aunt' the next.

"What ever I do, I won't play the Ed Norton character from the Gleason show. That would be a big mistake. That character belongs on that show only. I hope to work with Gleason occasionally next season. I like working with comics — I've also worked with Henry Morgan, Bert Lahr and Morey Amsterdam."

Singer, Dancer Also

Carney already has branched out to singing and dancing, which he'll demonstrate as a guest on tonight's "Dinah Shore Show" on NBC. But he'll have competition from Boris Karloff who'll drop horror for hep and do a rock 'n' roll step.

Carney also is mulling over several movie offers, although he'd rather do a Broadway show "if the right script comes along."

Carney, at last a star on his own, concluded with a smile, "Its a matter now of sitting back, thinking over the offers and deciding what is the best thing to do."

"It's funny—some of the fans don't accept me other than as the Ed Norton chracter. When I do dramatic parts they say they keep waiting for me to be funny," he said. "Other people write that I should try different things more often."

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear sister and aunt, Mrs. Teresa Knight, who died one year ago today, May 17, 1956
She would not want the ones she loved
To grieve for her today,
We must not say that she is dead
For she is just away,
Away upon a journey
To a land that's bright and fair:
And though we all miss her here,
We know she's happy there.
And memories of her will bring
New comfort every day.
As we recall. . . she is nor dead,
For she is just away
Sadly missed by her sister, Mrs Mary Savarino and Family

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Teresa Knight, who died one year ago today, May 17, 1956.
Dear God, wilt thou a message take,
For one who walks the golden way?
She is our own; our very best,
Without her all are empty days
Whisper that our hearts are with her
In that Kingdom up above.
Tell her that we miss her always,
And we send her all our love.
Dear God, you will know our Mother,
By the beauty of her smile,
Wilt thou say to her we're coming,
Home, in just a little while?
Sadly missed by Husband and Children

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs Michelina Naccarato, who died four years ago today, May 17, 1953
You are not forgotten, loved one,
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes on we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by Her Children.

Bird Given Privacy

Chicago (UP)—A barricade and a Do-Not-Disturb sign have been placed in the gardening section of Goldblatt's Department Store in suburban Hillside. Gilbert J. Mintz, store manager, said a robin built a nest on a trellis near the cash register. Since the bird has hatched three eggs Mintz said she was due a little privacy

One Scalpel Enough

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP) — Current surgical shop-talk is that a surgeon really doesn't need to use two scalpels, one to cut through the skin surface, the other to cut with when he gets deep down inside.

The two-scalpel school is well established and just about universal. Dr. Henry Reich of Newark, N.J., becomes a surgical world-shaker when he challenges its worth. Reich has said openly that one scalpel is enough.

The basis for the two-scalpel school is the prevention of surgical wound infection. Toward that end, patients are scrubbed, surgeons and nurses scrub, and the body areas around wounds are draped.

Despite all precautions microorganisms may remain on the skin surface. Some seem to stand up to any attack. Theoretically the sterilized scalpel which opens the surface may pick up microorganisms.

To prevent that scalpel from carrying these micro-organisms into the interior of the wound, the surgeon discards it and takes another sterilized scalpel with which to go deeper.

"Why discard only the scalpel?" asked Reich. "Clamps used to check superficial bleeding, scissors which cut the sutures and certainly the surgeon's gloves repeatedly come in contact with the skin before wound drapes are applied, yet these are not discarded."

It seemed to him that his colleagues were barking up the wrong tree—that they were bound by tradition. So in Beth Israel Hospital of Newark he organized the following experiment.

The scalpels used to cut through the skin surface of 100 consecutive operations were placed in culture tubes, and so were the second scalpels which were used for the inside work.

These culture tubes were incubated to see what micro-organisms multiplied, if any. Of the 100 scalpels used to open the surface, only four picked up skin micro-organisms, staphylococcus in three cases and streptococcus in the fourth.

Peter Lind Hayes Would Rather Write

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—Peter Lind Hayes, Arthur Godfrey's chief sit-in at CBS TV has reached that point in his career where he would rather write than withe

Pete and his wife, Mary Healy recently junked plans for a weekly situation comedy when they decided it might become a bore" His future plans call for an occasional turn on TV and in night spots but he wants to channel most of his energy into writing TV plays

William Ewald

I don't want ulcers heart trouble the psychiatrist bit and all that goes with a weekly show " explained Pete today. "And what I really like to do is write, anyway

"Marv and I are doing five weeks in Las Vegas beginning next month, but for the first time in a long while, I can hardly wait to get it over with"

In collaboration with another writer, Robert Crean, Pete has polished off two mystery plays which he hopes to land on Climax" He has four other TV dramas on his workbench at his New Rochelle, N Y, home which need some more sawing and hammering He's also working on a book, 'The Tragedy of Comedy,' about comics of the long ago.

"I have some ham in me, sure," said Hayes, 'but I don't have that much in me that has to be satisfied by performing week after week

'What's more I don't have the need for that feeling of adulation I've had all that jazz anyway You know, I've been in this business for a long time—back in 1932 I was playing with my mother."

Pete will continue his night club assignments not only because of the loot involved, but because it gives him an added chance to write "Las Vegas is our new haven" said Hayes, "we do our editing and polishing while the act is going Then when we guest on TV, we go on with tried material'

Move Made to Free Turnpike Of Toll Charges

HARRISBURG (UP)—A special legislative committee recommended today negotiations be started with the federal government to incorporate the Pennsylvania Turnpike into the interstate system in a move to free the superhighway of tolls

The committee set up by the 1955 Legislature and headed by Sen. Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny) said several knotty problems must be resolved before proposals to replace the present Turnpike Commission with a non-salaried commission and lifting of tolls could be achieved

The group pointed out turnpike bonds are based on indentures or agreements that clearly show the composition of the commission, and it would be necessary to first pay off all the bonded obligations To do this with state funds, the committee said, might require addition of at least another penny on the gasoline tax.

The better procedure, the committee said, would be to have the turnpike included in the interstate system, with the federal government paying 90 per cent of the cost against 10 per cent by the state for the retirement of the toll road's indebtedness.

Your Health—

Early Treatment Cures Many Breast Cancers

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Seventy-five per cent of breast cancers can be cured if treated early.

Since breast cancer is one of the most common forms of this dread disease — it is responsible for 5.2 per cent of the reported cancer deaths — we can deal a heavy blow to the rising cancer toll by detecting it early.

By early, I mean that it should be reported to your physician within a few days or few weeks at the most after the appearance of the first lump

It's easy for you women to examine your breasts In fact, at least 9 per cent of the women who develop a breast tumor find it themselves. If you notice any lump report them to your physician.

Many of these lumps which cannot be noticed when the patient is sitting can be felt when lying down. The reverse also is true.

The great majority of such lumps are not cancerous I would like to emphasize that. But I also want to emphasize that any swelling in the breasts should be reported to your physician immediately.

These examinations should be carried out systematically once every month If more women would follow this procedure, we could cure a lot more cases of breast cancer

Surgery can cure most such cancer cases providing they are discovered early enough When surgery is not possible radiation treatment sometimes is very effective

Breast cancer should be purely a problem of medical research. It will become just this when women finally learn techniques of self-examination and see their physicians at regular intervals.

A person will use about four times as much energy while bending over as while he is standing.

State Publishers to Be Presented Awards

Two Pennsylvania publishers, Pierre L. Smith, of Punxsutawney, and A. E. Hickerson, of Ardmore, tonight will be presented the Distinguished Service Awards of the Pennsylvania Press Conference.

The awards are made each year in recognition of professional and civic achievements.

Smith, president of the Spirit Publishing Co. and editor and publisher of the Punxsutawney Spirit, the only daily newspaper in Jefferson county, has been in the newspaper field for more than half a century. All but three years of his service, which began in 1906, was on the Spirit.

Hickerson is publisher of the Ardmore Main Line Times, Upper Darby News, and the Germantown Courier, three of the nation's largest circulation weekly newspapers.

He entered the newspaper field in Pennsylvania in 1934 when he and associates purchased the Brownsville Daily Telegraph, in which he still retains an interest. The same year, he and associates bought the Main Line Daily Times, Ardmore, and the Upper Darby Chronicle, and later he founded the Germantown Courier.

Both men have been active in civic affairs of their communities.

The awards will be presented at the annual Press Conference Dinner by Dr. James W. Markham, professor of journalism and head of the department of news and editorial journalism at Penn State.

Court Approves Compromise Move To Settle Suit

In Washington County court activity yesterday, the court approved a petition to compromise in the case of Frank J. Remen and Blanche A. Remen, of Monongahela, administrators of the estate of Margaret Ann Remen, deceased, against John Urbank, of Hackett.

This was a suit to recover for the death of Margaret Ann Remen when hit by an auto. The fatal mishap took place as the victim was walking across Main St., New Eagle, last Feb. 12, 1957. She died the next day.

In another case, a repair bill of $988.80 alleged damage to the plaintiff's truck was claimed in a suit filed by Nickles Bakery, Inc., Washington against George Simmons, 606 Marne Ave., Monongahela, and the Schreiber Trucking Company, Inc., Pittsburgh.

The alleged accident occured at about 5:30 p. m., Oct. 21, 1955 on Rt. 837 at the Sampson Hill intersection in Donora.

The complaint states that a Nickles bakery truck, driven by William L. Priff Jr., was struck by a truck owned and driven by George Simmons and leased by the Schreiber Trucking Company. It is alleged that Simmons made a left turn into the bakery truck.
